WALKER SEES NO WRONG, HE SAYS, IN FEE-SPLITTING

Denies, However, at Ouster Hearing That He Knew His Doctor Brother Got Share in Compensation Cases.

GOVERNOR TO CALL MORE WITNESSES

Agrees to Summon All Who Testified About Mayor at Seabury Inquiry—Attorney Curtin, Who Asked for Action, Protests.

By the Associated Press.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 17.—John Curtin's persistent demand that the witnesses before the Hofstadter legislative committee, who testified to Mayor Walker's conduct, be brought into the executive hearing on ouster charges, was granted by Gov. Roosevelt today.

The Governor yielded to the persistence of Walker's chief counsel, "Curtin," the Governor said, "You are asking that all the witnesses in the eight volumes of testimony be subpoenaed?" "Yes," Curtin replied.

"All right," Mr. Roosevelt agreed. "Give me a list, I'll call them all." Curtin objected to that procedure, declaring: "You want me to produce witnesses who want to hang my client."

The attorney's objection was overruled and Curtin said he would subpoena either Samuel Seabury, counsel, or Samuel H. Hofstadter, State Senator, who was chairman of the investigating committee, as custodian of all the records of the committee.

Roosevelt refused a subpoena for testimony taken at the private hearings of the Hofstadter committee. He asserted he would hear Curtin's witnesses tomorrow, and then adjourned until 10:30 a. m. tomorrow.

Concluding his interrogation of the Mayor regarding a charge that he had split fees in compensation cases, the Governor said: "I think this concludes the direct examination of the Mayor." Leaning forward Walker asked, "Did you hear direct?"

"Yes," the Governor replied, laughing. "Direct."

"Well, if this has been direct examination," Walker remarked amid laughter, "I hope I'm never cross-examined."

Defends Fee-Splitting. The Mayor, in his vigorous examination by Gov. Roosevelt, defended fee splitting. He said: "I don't know that fee splitting is unethical. I know of no law that permits the city to say to an employee what he shall do with his money."

"As a matter of fact, Mayor," the Governor asked, "do you think it's in the interest of good government for doctors on the city payroll to split fees with doctors who are not?"

DOMINIONS TELL ENGLAND IT MUST CUT SOVIET TRADE OR GET NO EMPIRE FAVORS

Abrogation of Most-Favored-Nation Treaties With Foreign Powers Is Suggested as Basis of Settlement

CAPT. LANCASTER IS ACQUITTED OF WRITER'S MURDER

Jury Clears British Flyer of Killing Haden Clarke, Who Was to Have Wed Mrs. Keith-Miller.

By the Associated Press.

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 17.—Capt. W. N. Lancaster, British aviator, was acquitted today of the slaying of Haden Clarke, young author, who succeeded Lancaster to the affections of Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller.

A jury of 12 men in the Circuit Court returned its verdict that Lancaster was not guilty of first-degree murder four hours 58 minutes after starting deliberations.

After the jury had been out two hours and 30 minutes, Judge Atkinson denied a request by the 12 men that exhibits in the case, including the skull of Haden Clarke, be taken to the jury room. Defense Counsel James M. Carson declined to agree to grant the request.

The jurors' request that they be given the report of a commission that performed the autopsy on the body of Clarke also was denied.

Two hours later the jurors asked for further instructions on reasonable doubt of guilt. Judge Atkinson read the part of his instructions dealing with that subject.

State's Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne concluded his plea for conviction by asking the jurors to find Lancaster guilty of a "cold, calculated murder."

Clarke Slain April 25. Lancaster is charged with killing Clarke in the bedroom they occupied at the Keith-Miller home on April 21, after he learned Mrs. Keith-Miller, his flying partner and former fiancée, had become infatuated with Clarke and planned to marry him.

Hawthorne attacked the testimony of Albert H. Hamilton, an investigator of Auburn, N. Y., who testified he believed Clarke was a suicide.

"This drama of love, hate, tragedy, chivalry, debauchery and crime would have been settled long ago," the Prosecutor said. "Had we not been operating with legal machinery that was antiquated 300 years ago?"

Says Lancaster Killed for Love. He then referred to Lancaster's love for Mrs. Keith-Miller.

"Do you think, when Lancaster came back here and found Clarke and the woman in love, he slunk away like he says he did, and planned to leave town?" demanded Hawthorne.

HARVEY AND COX SPLIT OVER WHICH ONE IS TO RUN FOR PRESIDENCY

So Jobless and Liberty Parties Meet Across Lake From Each Other and Nominate Their Respective Leaders.

NEW RUNNING MATE IS CHOSEN FOR 'COIN'

Free Silver Advocate Reaffirmed After Selection at Convention Year Ago—'Blue Shirts' to Adjourn Tonight.

By the Associated Press.

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 17.—It was reported today that the Foreign Relations Committee of the Imperial Economic Conference would recommend that empire countries abrogate existing most-favored-nation treaties with foreign powers. Apparently this was an outgrowth of the difficulty the conference is experiencing in balancing dominion demands for trade preferences against Great Britain's most-favored-nation treaty with Soviet Russia.

Such a recommendation brings Argentina's interests before the conference in a very material way, for Great Britain has such a treaty with Argentina on meat and wheat. As in the treaty with Russia, six months' notice by either party is required to terminate the arrangement. With Australia and Canada demanding preferences on chilled beef, now largely supplied by Argentina, the principle under consideration would be of material concern to that country.

Plans of the conference to conclude its agreements and adjourn tomorrow were wrecked on the question of England's trade with Soviet Russia, and the end was put forward to Saturday.

Demand by 8 Dominions. It became obvious the plenary session could not be held tomorrow when Stanley M. Bruce and J. G. Copestake, leaders of the Australian and New Zealand delegations, joined with Prime Minister Bennett of Canada in demanding Dominion products be protected against Soviet "dumping" in British markets.

That means in effect, it was said, the trade preferences offered the United Kingdom may be abrogated if the English do not find some way to guarantee that Empire products will not be undersold by the Russians. The whips apparently has changed hands and the English were represented as assented to the daughter nations' dictation to the motherland.

Well informed sources said today the English undoubtedly would not allow the conference to break up in discord, but there were no attempts to hazard a guess as to the probable way to salvage the conference, they said, take the form of an agreement "in principle" of indefinite character.

Canada takes the view, as does Australia, that tariff preferences alone are of little use against Russian "dumping," as, owing to its economic system, Russia can undercut any ordinary preference. What is desired is some more effective method—by quota or otherwise.

Canada's Other Demands. Other things Canada was asking in addition to restrictions on Russian competition and preferences of wheat, lumber, bacon, other meats, butter, cheese, poultry, fruits and fish, were:

1. Removal of restrictions on Canadian live cattle to provide a potential market for upward of 50,000 animals annually.

2. Continuation after Nov. 15 of existing preferences on manufactured products to facilitate the sale to Britain of Canadian newsprint and wood products, machinery, hardware and cutlery, farm implements, rubber goods and other such products.

It was virtually assured today the United States would have to fight harder for about $50,000,000 of trade annually if the proposed bi-lateral agreements were carried to fruition. Some observers thought trade with other Dominions would be affected more than that with Canada.

Jobless Party Convention at Creve Coeur Lake

FATHER COX'S SHIRTS

Two small groups of protesting pilgrims met in St. Louis County today with Creve Coeur Lake between them.

The Blue Shirts, or Jobless Party, in the grand stand at Creve Coeur race track, nominated their leader, the Rev. Father James R. Cox, Pittsburgh Catholic priest and leader of a march on Washington last winter, for the presidency. The nomination and the adoption of Father Cox's 15-point platform, of social relief and economic reform, were by acclamation, his 600 adherents yelling and stamping their feet.

For Vice-President, the Blue Shirts nominated Dr. V. C. Tisdale, a physician of Elk City, Ok. At the same time, the Liberty party convention of about 100, led by William H. (Coin) Harvey, meeting at the main Creve Coeur resort, on the picnic grounds near the street-car terminus, reaffirmed the nomination of Harvey for President, made nearly a year ago, and nominated for Vice-President Frank B. Howmaway, a real estate dealer of Tacoma, Wash. Howmaway replaces Andrus B. Nordstrom of Los Angeles, who was nominated with Harvey last year.

The gathering here, for reasons not explained, decided to revise the ticket to this extent. A six-point economic platform, embodying Harvey's demands for government ownership of banks and utilities, and for a "new" currency system without a metallic standard, was adopted.

Both conventions, naming their tickets in mid-afternoon, were scheduled to adjourn before night. The separate gatherings of the two groups, which had been planned to fuse as the Jobless Liberty party, followed the discovery, last evening, that Father Cox and "Coin" Harvey would both insist on having a presidential nomination.

UNION HEAD CALLED FROM HOME TO AUTO AND KILLED

ONE OF 3 IN AUTO FIRES FATAL SHOT

Woman Shot When Special Deputies, Guarding Christian County Roads Against 'March on Taylorville,' Fire on Car.

By the Associated Press. BENTON, Ill., Aug. 17.—Joe Colbert, secretary of Miners' Local Union No. 303 at Orient and an opponent of the new $5 wage scale, was shot to death today by one of three men who drove up to his home, called him to their automobile and then drove away after firing at him with a shotgun.

Colbert lived at Orient, about 10 miles southwest of here. Colbert was in his garden gathering mushrooms when three men drove up in a small automobile and called the miner to the fence of his yard. When he came to the fence he received a load of shot in his breast.

Colbert, 34 years old and married, was serving his third term as recording secretary of Local No. 303. He had lost his left hand in a mine accident several years ago.

Walter Colbert, the father, was taking a cow to pasture from their farm home, on the outskirts of Orient, when his son left his task of gathering mushrooms to respond to a call from the three men in the car. The elder Colbert said he was too far away from the scene of the shooting to recognize the men.

Two men were in the front seat of the car and the third, who had occupied the rear seat, did the shooting, Walter Colbert said. The body of the younger Colbert was taken to West Frankfort where an inquest will be held tomorrow.

Authorities here charged that Colbert had been spreading "Communist ideas." A case charging Colbert with drunkenness was pending in Benton city court. He attended the protest meeting at Benton Sunday.

Sheriff Browning Robinson of Franklin County and his deputies broke up a picket line of miners at the Peabody No. 11 mine at West Frankfort last night to enable the night crew of 25 men to return to work. There were about 75 pickets at the mine, some of them women.

WIFE OF MINER SHOT BY DEPUTY. By the Associated Press. TAYLORVILLE, Ill., Aug. 17.—A woman occupant of an automobile was shot and wounded early today by Sheriff's deputies guarding Christian County highways against the threatening invasion of striking coal miners from downstate and Springfield.

The woman was Mrs. Clyde K. Moore, wife of an Edinburg miner, who they returned from Springfield, where Moore nightly attends a convention stand at an amusement park, when the deputies attempted to stop their automobile and question them.

The officers fired and bullet struck the forehead and arm of Mrs. Moore, narrowly missing her husband and daughter.

LAWYER IS FOUND SHOT TO DEATH BESIDE AUTO

Woman's Handkerchief and Suitcase Filled With Letters in Tulsa (Ok.) Man's Car.

By the Associated Press. TULSA, Ok., Aug. 17.—J. Earl Smith, 34-year-old Tulsa attorney, was found mysteriously slain beside his automobile on a side road near the Indian Hills Country Club today.

There was a bullet hole in his head, another through the top of the car and a third in the windshield. No weapon was found.

A woman's handkerchief was found on the robe rack of the sedan and a suitcase filled with letters and other papers in the tonneau.

The lawyer was a native of Jackson, Tenn., and a graduate of Cumberland University. He came to Tulsa in 1919 and lived later at Ponca City and Oklahoma City, returning here in 1928. His widow and two children survive.

Smith was one of four attorneys who defended Harvey Bailey, convicted of bank robbery at Fort Scott, Kan., yesterday.

DROWNED IN MERAMEC WHEN LOG UPSETS BOAT

William Pfeiffer, 50 years old, 4212 (rear) Gibson avenue, was drowned in the Meramec River, half a mile west of Lincoln Beach, when a rowboat was struck by a floating log and capsized at 6 o'clock this morning.

The drowning was reported to St. Louis County authorities by Edward and Joseph Crowder, 5024 Wabasha avenue, and Leroy Pogelski, Vinita Park, who had started out with Pfeiffer in the boat on a fishing trip. They clung to the overturned craft and managed to reach shore.

Pfeiffer's body was not found. This was the thirteenth drowning this season in the Meramec River.

STOCK MARKET ERRATIC; PART OF LOSSES REBAGGED

About Half the Drop Ranging From $2 to $6 Recovered Near the Close.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—The stock market fluctuated erratically today, recovering in the last hour part of an early afternoon drop which had carried several prominent issues from 12 to nearly $5 a share lower.

Trading proceeded by fits and starts. The day's total sales were nearly 5,000,000 shares. The market had a fair upturn in the morning, under leadership of some of the utilities and motion picture issues, but most of the gains of $1 to $3 a share registered at that time were soon lost.

FISH BITING, HOOVER DELAYS RETURN HOME

President Will Not Reach White House Till Late Today; Will Go on to Rapidan.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Good fishing tempted President Hoover into prolonging his Chesapeake Bay trip today after arrangements had been made for his return to the White House.

The Sequoia, the Commerce Department inspection boat on which he is traveling, already had started for Annapolis, where he planned to embark, when the President went out for a final session with the fish in the waters of the upper Chesapeake. They bit well and his catch was the best of his trip.

Shortly afterward the White House was informed he probably would not reach Annapolis until late today. He will continue to his Rapidan camp either tonight or early tomorrow.

Mr. Hoover caught 15 fish yesterday, one a three-foot trout. He had as guide to the best spots John Crockett, Tangier Island fisherman. Crockett told newspapermen that the President "is a good fisherman" and "very pleasant."

The President permitted photographers to take a picture of him as he sat fishing from a small speed boat.

"Any luck?" somebody shouted across water made slightly choppy by a brisk breeze.

14 HELD IN KILLING OF MAN FOUND IN SACK IN BROOKLYN

Raid Made on Eve of Party at Which Police Say 4 Slayers Were to Be Paid $5000 Each.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—Fourteen men were arrested today in raids by 10 policemen, and held on charges of complicity in the killing of John Basmano, Pittsburgh restaurant man, whose body was found in a sack in a Brooklyn street, Aug. 8.

The arrests came on the eve of a party at which police said the men were to celebrate extermination of their adversaries. Police said the celebration was arranged for tonight in a midtown hotel, and at its Basmano's four co-defendants were to have been paid $5000 each.

Afterward the four, according to the information, were to have been sounded out on a proposal to eliminate a widely known New York racketeer at an increase in pay to $7500 each. Police declined to name the racketeer.

All 14 of the prisoners, pre-arrested, were taken to the restaurant or grocery business. They were rounded up in Brooklyn and Manhattan hotels.

Basmano, a special Peabody Coal Co. officer and Sheriff's deputy, was arrested on charges of conducting a racket in all growing out of the shooting.

Basmano, however, denied any connection with the shooting.

TUBERCULOSIS DAY GAME POSTPONED TILL TOMORROW

Rain Prevents Annual Celebration; Cardinals and Athletics to Play Doubleheader.

By the Associated Press. The annual Tuberculosis day baseball game, scheduled for this afternoon, was postponed until tomorrow because of rain.

A doubleheader between the St. Louis Cardinals and Philadelphia National League team will be played tomorrow. A program of athletic events, drills and music will precede the game. The entertainment will start at noon.

EARTHQUAKE 2600 MILES AWAY

Two Shocks Recorded Early Today at St. Louis.

A moderate earth shock was recorded on the seismograph at St. Louis University at 2:52 a. m. today, re-occurring at 2:54. The waves came from a distance of about 2600 miles, but it was impossible to tell the direction, according to the Rev. James B. Macfarlane, seismologist.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—Mrs. Louise Thaden and Mrs. Frances Mannell completed three full days of endurance flying over Curtis Field at 1 p. m. today and were only 51 hours and 20 minutes from a new record for women.

They will achieve their goal if they still are in the air at 3:30 p. m. Friday. They took off at 1 p. m. Sunday.

The women passed the half-way mark toward the record at 2:10 a. m. when they had completed 51 hours and 10 minutes aloft. They must remain in the air 123 hours and 20 minutes to beat the record of 122 hours and 30 minutes.

ILLINOIS TEACHER HELD AT REQUEST INTO WIFE'S DEATH

H. C. Moor of Robinson
High School, Who Says Robbers or Liquor-Runners Shot Mate, Accused.

HE IS BENEFICIARY
OF $5000 INSURANCE
Sheriff Declares Prisoner Tells Different Stories of Roadside Murder in Auto
Early Monday.

By the Associated Press.
MARSHALL, Ill., Aug. 17. — A coroner's jury recommended yesterday that H. C. Moor, 23 years old, high school teacher of Robinson, Ill., be held for the killing of his wife, Mrs. Marjorie Moor, 23, who was found shot twice through the heart in Moor's automobile.
According to testimony, Moor was the beneficiary of a $5000 insurance policy on the life of his wife.

Moor told the police his wife was killed by holdup men or liquor runners, about 1 a. m., Monday as they were driving near here on their way home from a visit with their parents at Indianapolis. He said he was knocked unconscious
by the men and when he came to found his wife dead in the front seat of the car.

Sheriff J. M. Turner said there were discrepancies in Moor's story.
Moor admitted having had a pistol in the car, the sheriff said, but search failed to find it.

Moor has taught agriculture at Robinson for seven years. His wife was a substitute teacher and acted as a judge in 4-H club work among high school boys and girls.
The inquest was held behind closed doors. Coroner Will Rogers said Moor appeared before the jury, testifying that he was standing beside the car at the side of the road when suddenly an automobile appeared with several men in it. He said one of the men flashed a light in his face, blinding him. He was struck on the head, he said, and heard shots fired before he lost consciousness.

Previously, police and Moor declared he was driving his car and it was forced off the road.

Moor appeared at the Will Imie farm here about 2 a. m., apparently dazed, telling Imie Mrs. Moor was dead. He said he could not remember where his car was. Imie notified the authorities and they found the car.

Search of the luggage carried by the Moors on their trip disclosed
a watch that Moor said had been stolen. Elsewhere they found rings taken from the dead woman's fingers. Physicians said her fingers were bruised where the rings had been torn off.

nue to Forest Park, then along the south side of the park and past The Arena, where they might have met
if their coming had been more auspiciously arranged and better financed.

Turning north on Skinner, they were guided across Delmar boulevard's traffic and to the city limits
at Olive boulevard, where they City. There the police told them how to proceed out Olive Street road and the macadam Crave Court Mill road, 18 miles from the city, at the race track, Father Cox and his "motorcade" were greeted by a shout from several dozen of the Blue Shirts, who had come in advance, hitch-hiking or on freight trains, and by some local over-sighters who had donned the blue overalls caps of the cult.

Dispute Soon Breaks Out.
Harvey, already disillusioned and complaining of the "misrepresentation"
made to him, as he sat in his frame cottage, in its palmier days,
the home of the Mint Leaf Club,
for the Pittsburgh priest's arrival.
They were photographed in the act of shaking hands, and the conference began.

The chief disputants—for the conference soon became one of dispute—were the alert and quick-spoken Father Cox, the slowly unfolding Harvey, who was observing his eighty-first birthday,
and R. B. Burch of Seattle, a Harvey adherent and Pacific Coast representative of the Liberty party.
Several other of Harvey's executive committee took part.

First, "Cold" was wanted to know where the million man promised by Father Cox, or even the $50,000
mentioned later, were. He was not impressed by the "handful" whom he had seen getting out of the motor caravan.

"We would have thousands here instead of hundreds," the clergyman replied, "but they did not have the money to come. I myself have less than $1500, and I realize that it takes $15,000,000 to elect a President."

There was a little talk of Harvey's schemes for financial reform,
and of the demands of Cox's plan-form for social legislation, but no controversy arose over these points, each seeming ready to take whatever the other offered. Then the discussion got to the main point, who was to be the presidential nominee of the proposed Jobsite Liberty party.

Teacher With Wife Who Was Slain

H. C. MOOR and WIFE, MARJORIE.

Harvey replied that he already had a nomination, bestowed by a convention of more than 600 at Monte Ne, Aug. 25 of last year.
Then one of Harvey's followers, H.
C. Eastbridge of Odessa, Tex., came out flatly and said that he feared
a Catholic priest would not appeal to the voters of his State as a presidential candidate.

"I'm not prejudiced," Eastbridge said, "but it takes time to educate people." There was talk of Al Smith's candidacy in 1928, Father Cox commenting that Smith should not have been a candidate, not because of his faith, but because of his associations in other respects, which "did not represent the best in American life." Harvey did not join in this part of the discussion, but he did insist on his rights of seniority and priority.

"For Suffering Humanity."
"Can it be," he said in a quavering voice, "that you, a new man, with only three months' experience, are trying to push me aside?
I don't personally want the office.
I begged my people, before they nominated me last year, not to do so. But I took it for the sake of my dream of a lifetime, and for suffering humanity. Now you come here with a handful of men, and try to shove me out. It is disgusting, and it wipes out all the good that might have been accomplished."

Father Cox declared he would not step aside because of objections to his calling. "I'm an American citizen," he said, "and the people don't care that my profession happens to be that of a priest."

Austin Staley, a Pittsburgh lawyer and Cox adherent, asserted that Harvey, at a conference in St. Louis several weeks ago, had agreed to step aside in Father Cox's favor.
"It's false!" Harvey exclaimed, and Staley was in a spirited argument
with Burch, C. W. Henninger and other Harveyites as the meeting
broke up.

Cox's Only Salvation.
Outside, the priest said there was no further chance of consolidation of the two groups. "I bear no ill will toward Mr. Harvey," he said.
"I took it all as impersonally as I could in Father Cox's favor."
"It's false!" Harvey exclaimed, and Staley was in a spirited argument
with Burch, C. W. Henninger and other Harveyites as the meeting
broke up.

The news of the split spread about the grounds, but did not interrupt the supper-making and preparations for the night. The motorists had brought their own supplies, and there were supplements of coffee and sandwiches brought on the grounds from the proprietors, who set in this way their only rental. Father Cox and a few of the company were lodged in the small frame hotel.

As dusk came, campfires winked through the trees. Each small group looked after its own camp-up and the volunteer camp workers had nothing to do. The campers slept in their cars and trucks,
a few in tents and more rolled in blankets on the ground, and all sought the mosquitoes.

Father Cox says Mass.
Father Cox and several carloads of Blue Shirts, who are members of his congregation, left St. Patrick's in Pittsburgh, drove into University City today at daylight, and he said mass at All Saints Church. Returners were supplemented by Blue Shirts at breakfast, holding coffee and roasting ears of corn obtained from a nearby farm.

The Blue Shirts' convention began at 10:30 a. m. in the great stand, which was less than half filled. A count showed about 600 present. The Homebrew Blue Shirt unit, 60 unemployed steel workers from a Pittsburgh suburb, paraded about the track cars and trucks, followed by a more general march
of the delegates, with an accordion, guitar and mandolin trio furnishing music.

George L. Ewing of Homestead, Pa., chairman, called the convention to order. The keynote speech, an exposition of Father Cox's plan-form as published in the Post-Dispatch yesterday, was delivered by Henry Eitzenberg, Pittsburgh lawyer.

Next in order was the meeting of the platform committee, which was scheduled to make its report in the afternoon. The time for the nomination of Father Cox and a candidate for Vice President was set for 3 p. m., and Father Cox reserved his own speech-making until then. Staley was selected to place Father Cox in nomination.

The program called for adjournment late this afternoon, and Father Cox planned to return to Pittsburgh by airplane.

Harvey's convention elected Burch permanent chairman, and he made a speech attacking the Democratic and Republican parties, and expounded Harvey's doctrine, unchanged since the Bryan "first battle" of 1896, of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1, without the aid or consent of any other nation.

Both conventions were interrupted by the heavy shower before noon. The Cox gathering, in the open grandstand, was peculiarly exposed to the rain, which came at an interlude when the delegates were engaged in community singing. The Harveyites, fewer in number, took shelter in the restaurant and other buildings of the picnic ground.

Before the reconvening of Father
Cox's convention this afternoon,
five automobile loads of visitors were turned back at the racetrack because the police on guard said
the area contained Communists, and literature which they were seeking to distribute among the Blue Shirts.

Staley, in his nominating address, praised Father Cox's achievements as a priest and a social leader. The vote, taken at 3:25 p. m., was as loud a demonstration as the moderate-sized gathering was able to make. Showing and the blowing of automobile horns lasted for 15 minutes, and Father Cox waved and smiled as women and children paraded jubilantly on the muddy track in front of the grandstand.

Father Cox, in his speech of acceptance, declared for re-establishment of "King Cotton," meaning the rule of agriculture, and dethronement of King Steel. He assigned the Liberty party for its responsibility to "go along with" the Jobsite party, because a Catholic priest was the presidential selection of the latter. This, he said, "definitely brought the religious issue into American politics."

Dr. Thaddeus Changes Mind.
The selection of a vice-presidential candidate had been the cause of some worry, for, with Father Cox and all his chief advisers from Pennsylvania, little material from other states was offered. The name of Dr. Thaddeus of Elk City, Ok., was once agreed upon, but a telegram was received from him, declining to run. Dr. Thaddeus changed his mind later and wired in his acceptance.

SOCIALISTS ADOPT WET PLANK

party of America has adopted in its platform a prohibition repeal plank recommending Government ownership and control of the liquor industry with right of local option states, Clarence Senior, national secretary of the party, announced yesterday.

The vote followed a petition of 10 delegates after adoption of the plank by delegates to the party's national convention in Milwaukee in May.

Walker Says He Sees Nothing Wrong in Fee-Splitting

turn over to the police a subpoena for Sherwood.

Cross-examined by John J. Curtin, Walker's counsel, Schurman said he prepared the material in the investigation of the Mayor.

"I wasn't interested in Mayor Walker's personal affairs, Mr. Curtin," Schurman replied sharply in protest at one of Curdin's questions in the investigation of the Mayor.

A letter Schurman wrote to Walker before the Mayor went to Europe a year ago and the Mayor's reply were introduced as evidence.
Curtin read Schurman's letter, which requested a list of the Mayor's bank and brokerage accounts since he had taken office as Mayor Jan. 1, 1926, and a list of his securities.

Lists Only One Brokerage Account.
Schurman said he wrote the letter, but that Seabury signed it. He then read Walker's reply. It listed his bank accounts and securities and stated that Walker had no brokerage account save the joint account with Paul Block.

"Have you any idea," Curdin asked, "how the newspapers got word that Mayor Walker's accounts were subpoenaed?" "I have not. If you imply they got it from me, I assure you they did not."

Q. Did Mayor Walker ask Senator Hofstadter if there was anything he could do to co-operate with the committee before he went to Europe? A. I do not know.

Q. You asked Mayor Walker for information and you got it, didn't you? A. Yes, in part.

Ran Across Sherwood's Name.
Sherwood's name, Schurman said, first appeared in connection with the Mayor's account in the Federation Bank & Trust Co.

He said he ran across Sherwood's name in trading coupons from Consolidated Gas bonds which the Mayor has said belonged to Mrs.
Walker. Part of the coupons were deposited in the Walker account in the Federation Bank, he said, and part in an account of Sherwood in Europe.

Curtin asked Schurman if he and Kerrigan at luncheon did not discuss an arrangement whereby nothing was done about Walker's affairs until he had returned from Europe. Schurman said the arrangement was not mentioned. "The talk was," he said, "that it was unfair to examine Sherwood while the Mayor was away."

Q. (By Curdin)—Didn't Kerrigan produce a copy of a subpoena served on Walker calling for his financial records. The Governor and Curdin became involved
in an argument again, as Curdin
objected to introduction of the subpoena as evidence.

"Do you want me to go to all the
trouble of saying to the Mayor 'Did you receive this subpoena?' The Governor demanded. "I do not,"
Curtin replied.

"Well, you're doing it 50 times
before," the Governor observed.
Walker asked for a copy of the
receipt he received when he sent down some of his records to Sea-bury.

Q. When? A. Some time in September, I believe.

Q. Didn't Snyder say he had seen and talked with Sherwood in Atlantic City. A. He reported he was in Atlantic City, but he did not say he had seen and talked with Sherwood. Sherwood, he said, was at the Hotel Traymore—Atlantic City.

Schurman said he turned over to the police subpoena for Sherwood on Aug. 20. Schurman said he told the police he had heard Sherwood was in Atlantic City and asked them to verify it.

Curtin then read a report of the Police Department stating that man told the police to hold the subpoena, while Sherwood was in Atlantic City, in the event he should return to New York.

Q. No application for an order for Sherwood was made while he was in Atlantic City, was there?
A. No, because he disappeared from there.

refresh Schurman's memory on the date of the order and service of the subpoena. These were established as Oct. 17 and Oct. 20, 1931.

Roosevelt interrupted proceedings, saying: "Mr. Curdin, there has been a great deal of objection
by many persons and on my part,
too, against long arguments on technical legal points at this hearing. I am not bound by the rules that a Supreme Court Justice is bound by. I am trying to get to the kernel of this matter. If you want to call Mr. Ellis, call him."

Curtin remarked: "May I say I have not transgressed upon any technicality. If Your Excellency has adhered to technical grounds, none of it would have been included. I'm getting a little bit fed up with these long arguments between counsel," the Governor interrupted.
"I'll take charge of this hearing pretty soon."

Curtin attempted to speak, but the Governor would not let him.
"Don't talk any more," Roosevelt said. "Proceed with your examination."

Says Walker Did Not Give Records.
Gov. Roosevelt then turned to No.
12 of the Seabury conclusions—that Walker failed to produce documents relating to his financial affairs.

The Governor first asked Seabury
what he considered to be the importance and relevancy of the conclusions.

Seabury said it was a mere statement of fact, showing Walker had failed to produce the records when he was asked to do so.

"Do you consider the matter set forth in No. 12 constitutes a charge?" Martin Conboy, counsel for the Governor, asked. "Yes," Seabury replied. "Just as much of a charge as any of the other conclusions. Being requested to produce those records, he failed to do so."

After Mayor Walker had said
he would make inquiry or a search,
did you ask him to produce the records?" Conboy asked. "No, but we did receive some incomplete records from him."

Conboy remarked that it was not clear to him just what Seabury charged against the Mayor in that conclusion.

Seabury Returns on Curdin.
Seabury produced a copy of a subpoena served on Walker calling
for his financial records. The Governor and Curdin became involved
in an argument again, as Curdin
objected to introduction of the
subpoena as evidence.

"Do you want me to go to all the
trouble of saying to the Mayor 'Did
you receive this subpoena?' The Governor demanded. "I do not,"
Curtin replied.

"Well, you're doing it 50 times

Walker asked for a copy of the
receipt he received when he sent

bury. "I was given only two days," he said, "in which to collect all the evidence covering six years. I never kept any books and in the meantime the law office had moved. I asked the office to find what records of mine were left. After I had taken them down there, the papers were lost to believe that they were stolen."

Orders Mayor's Words Struck Out.
"Do you charge that anyone gave such a story to the papers?" the Governor asked.

"They were told that Police Capt.
O'Connor stole them, although he was advised by Senator Hofstadter to take them."

Roosevelt ordered Walker's remarks struck from the record.
"When you became Mayor," Roosevelt said, "you made no request to the law office that you were interested in the Seabury investigation. You never asked me for anything. You never asked me to destroy them."

Q. (By Governor)—Is it true that no record was produced of any transmission in 1926? A. I don't

Q. Is it true that no records were produced for the first five and one-half months of 1927, with one exception? Your Excellency, Walker re-never asked anybody to destroy them."

compensation cases. It appeared your brother had business relations with other doctors handling a city compensation cases. Did you know anything of these matters?"

"No, I had no knowledge whatsoever of these matters," the Mayor replied. "I don't think I've seen my brother more than four times a year since I've been Mayor. I knew that he knew Dr.
O'Mara, that they had a mutual interest in workmen's compensation. I never knew he was on the city payroll and I don't know it now. I never spoke to the corporation counsel or anyone else about hiring my brother or any other doctor."

Denies Knowing of Case.
"Did you split fees with Dr.
O'Mara?" you ask. I have split fees with my law partners. I assume Mr. Curdin has with his. But my brother never had any contract with the city—no. I never heard anything about it until it appeared in the newspapers after he was on the stand. I then inquired if he was on the city payroll. I found he was not. I asked my brother what there was to it. He said it was a business arrangement between several doctors on compensation cases."

"Did you do anything to investigate the propriety of this arrangement?" the Governor asked. "I don't know what Your Excellency means by that question," Walker replied.

Walker said he asked the corporation counsel about the fee-splitting and told him to "go into that bureau and find out."

"Mayor, don't you think it would have been a natural thing for you to find out whether four doctors in the city employ were splitting fees?" the Governor asked. "I don't know that fee-splitting is wrong," Walker replied.

As the argument around the Governor's desk continued, Walker strode away with the observation to friends: "This can't go on; the (Seabury's group) will just bring in another handful and it will go forever."

A newspaper man took the Mayor or another query on a report that he had resigned.

"It's not in my mind," said Walker sharply. "If I do you'd certainly know about it here before they

Fee-Splitting

It appeared as if he didn't own him the money. It might be wrong. Did All He Should Have Done? Q. And if he split fees with doctors over a long period? A. You're asking me now for an opinion on something I know nothing about. Q. If you were a doctor and had to give half your fees to somebody else wouldn't you try to earn more fees? A. If I had to give half my salary to someone else I'd do almost anything. But I don't know that that was the case here. Q. Do you think you did everything you should have done after you read about your brother's testimony? A. Yes, I think I did. These doctors aren't charged with any crime. They haven't stolen any money from the city. That concluded the examination of the Mayor.

Schieffelin Wants to Sum Up. William J. Schieffelin of the Committee of 1900, and counsel to the body which brought charges based on the Seabury analysis, asked for privilege of making a statement when the time arrived. Roosevelt announced the charges of James E. Finnegan of the Brooklyn group also preferring charges, would be considered after the Seabury case was complete.

Curtis declined to present his case until he had been assured "the other side" had presented all its witnesses. The Governor said no additional subpoena had been issued but to date had not been served. "There are," said Roosevelt, "sides in this case."

"I have only one side," Curtis retorted. "I had thought Judge Seabury had the other side until he came here; your excellency seems to have the other."

As the argument around the Governor's desk continued, Walker strolled away with the observation to friends: "This can't go on; the Seabury group will just bring in another handful and it will go forever."

Python, Loose Since May, Caught in Rooming House

One of Two Snakes That Got Away at 3875 Washington Turns Up in Kitchen at No. 3867.

The smaller of two half-grown pythons that escaped into the walls of a Washington boulevard rooming house early last May, was captured in the basement of a house two doors east early today. The other, more than 12 feet long, is believed to be still at large, somewhere in the neighborhood.

The snakes, property of a circus snake-charmer and her lion-tamer husband, lived in a trunk at 3875 Washington. One day their mistress put them in a bathtub to drink and bathe. She and her husband returned two hours later to find that the snakes had disappeared. There was a hole in the bathroom wall through which they might have gone.

Search of the house disclosed no trace of the pythons so over the loud protestations of Mrs. H. B. Hilton, proprietor of the rooming house, the snake-charmer and the lion-tamer departed with the circus. Neighborhood talk about snakes died down, and until a month they were forgotten.

Nudges Snake With His Foot. Then Henry Johnson, who, with his wife, Rose, operates a rooming house at 3867 Washington, got out of bed and went down to the kitchen for a drink. The back door, as usual, was open about three inches so the Johnson cat, Junior, could go in and out. Right close to the door, it appeared, was Junior, curled up asleep. At least, Johnson thought it was Junior.

Abstractedly, he moved from the sink to poke Junior with his foot. He did so, and the minute his bare toe came into contact with the dark, coiled mass, he knew it wasn't Junior. It was something cold and scaly.

Johnson yelled and jumped back. Whoever it was that was coiled, uncoiled and Johnson saw it was a snake. "And a pretty darn big snake, too," he said of it later. As he departed precipitately from the kitchen he saw the reptile heading down the basement stairs.

He told Mrs. Johnson the cause of the commotion and she ran screaming across the street to 3872, where the Afro-American Walkathon is operating in what used to be garage Barry Cronin, night manager, and Nick Vitale, watchman, followed her back, incredulous.

Cornered and Captured. She hurried them into the basement and there under the stairs and behind an old dresser, the snake was coiled. It moved and Cronin hit it on the head with a piece of gas-pipe. Then it lay still. Vitale picked it up and took it, bleeding a little, back to the Walkathon where he placed it on exhibit in a wire-topped box. It is 7 feet 10 inches long.

"It's sick," he told reporters, "but not dead." He shook the box. "Look, it crawls. That thing, if you don't cut his head off, he won't die."

"Right away, when I got him here, I took nice olive oil, and I poured it so, in his mouth. Then I took alcohol and wiped him off nice and clean on the head where he is hit."

Junior did not come in for his milk this morning. Johnson thought it was Junior. Vitale came back at 8 o'clock and started searching under the bigger snake. He discovered no trace of it, but under the back porch, he found Junior, dead.

P. S. CO. EMPLOYE KILLED CHARGING HIS AUTO BATTERY

George W. Hebbeler, 52, Electrocuted When on Duty at Street Car Power Station.

George W. Hebbeler, employed by the street railway company as an electrician for 23 years and inventor of six electrical devices, was electrocuted at the Public Service Co. substation at 2407 North Spring avenue last night while attempting to charge the battery on his automobile.

Hebbeler was the only employee on night duty at the substation, which supplies power for North St. Louis street car lines. His body, lying beside his automobile in the yard outside the station, was found at 6 o'clock this morning when David Terrell, Negro janitor, reported for work.

Two wires leading from a switch were in contact with the body, one being held in Hebbeler's hand, and the second lying across his chest. Investigation showed that the current was turned on. To the open end of a cable was fastened a clamp used to make an attachment with a battery. Both of Hebbeler's hands were burned, indicating he had attempted to make the connection with the battery without turning off the current. An officer of the company said.

Hebbeler, a veteran of the Spanish-American War, was 52 years old and resided at 4717 Natural Bridge avenue with his wife and 13-year-old son. Last night was the third time he had driven his automobile to work in the several years he has owned a machine, according to Mrs. Hebbeler. The battery did not appear to be low when he left home, she said.

FOR $21,000,000 SETTLED

BOSTON, Aug. 17.—A decree providing settlement in the $21,000,000 suit of minority stockholders against certain former directors of the Gillette Safety Razor Co. was entered in Supreme Court today by Judge Henry T. Lummus. The settlement contemplates payment by the defendants of $400,000 in cash, delivery to the company of notes of two defendants of $22,500 each, payable in two years and of $25,000 each, payable in five years, and of $25,000 each, payable in ten years. The settlement also provides for the recovery of $53,318 paid back by him, without prejudice, on account of bonuses and assignment and release of Ralph E. Thompson of any claims he may have in respect to patents.

Counsel for the plaintiffs said in the motion to have the settlement approved that they thought this settlement was for the good of the corporation.

FAILS TO PAY FOR TAXI TO JOBLESS CONVENTION

Cleveland Man Is Fined $50; Unable to Find Father's Cox.

John Milligan, Cleveland, O., was fined $50 by Provisional Judge Lemen today for failing to pay a taxicab bill for a ride out to Father Cox's jobless party convention at Creve Coeur.

John Milligan, 5173 Easton avenue, a driver for the Yellow Cab company, said he picked up Milligan at Ninth street and Washington at Ninth street and took him to the convention site at Creve Coeur. Milligan, he said, told him he would find Father Cox and get money to pay the fare. After they had failed to find the priest, Ricks took his passenger back to St. Louis and turned him over to police.

DR. H. T. HILLSTROM'S SKULL FRACTURED IN AUTO CRASH

Head of X-Ray Laboratory at Vanderbilt University Taken to Hospital Here.

Dr. Harry T. Hillstrom, 31 years old, head of the X-ray laboratory at Vanderbilt Hospital, Nashville, Tenn., is at Barnes Hospital with fractures of the skull and nose after a collision on a highway 30 miles northwest of Springfield, Ill.

Dr. Hillstrom was driving to Wisconsin to spend a vacation with his mother. His automobile collided with another machine driven by Miss Margaret Riser, a school teacher, of Ashland, Ill., who was also injured. Following emergency treatment at Springfield hospital, he was brought to St. Louis yesterday.

3000 POLICY TICKETS SEIZED

Man in Whose Auto They Were Found Arrested.

After finding 3000 policy tickets in his automobile, detectives last night arrested a man describing himself as Oscar T. Clodius, a salesman, 4649 Loughborough avenue.

The arrest was made after the detectives noticed a Negro approach the man's machine, which was parked at Easton and Glasgow avenues. The Negro fled when the officers stopped their car. The suspect, booked on a gambling charge, told police that he had been employed by a man, known to him as "Al," to deliver the tickets to the Negro. Policy is a form of lottery popular among the Negroes.

S. CARLISLE MARTIN, ARTIST, DIES AT 64

With Post-Dispatch Since 1894 — Drew Weather Bird for 20 Years.

Samuel Carlisle Martin, head of the Post-Dispatch's art department, and in the employ of this newspaper since 1894, died of heart disease today at his home, 6117 Washington avenue. He was 64 years old.

Mr. Martin's vacation ended Sunday, but because of illness which was not considered serious until today, he had not returned to his work. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lynn Martin; a daughter, Miss Fern Martin; a son, S. Carlisle Martin Jr. of Indianapolis; three brothers, J. Gay and George N. Martin of St. Louis and Edward G. Martin of Tampa, Fla.; and a sister, Mrs. Hattie Teasdale of Tulsa, Ok. J. Gay Martin is a twin brother.

Funeral arrangements have not been made. The body is at the Alexander undertaking establishment, 3175 Delmar boulevard.

Mr. Martin was a son of John Gay Martin, and was connected with families of prominence in St. Louis of the '60s and '70s. His maternal uncle was James L. Carlisle, who was postmaster of St. Louis under President Cleveland. The Martin family lived in a large home on Maple avenue, opposite the point where Clara avenue enters that street.

Carlisle Martin was a student of Central High School, then at Fifteenth and Olive streets, before beginning his art course, which was taken in St. Louis School of Fine Arts, in the old Art Museum at Nineteenth and Locust streets. His first work after leaving the Art School was as a furniture designer for a St. Louis manufacturing firm. Some of his work appeared in the company's exhibit in the World's Columbian Exposition, the Chicago World's Fair of 1893.

He went to work in 1894 for the St. Louis Star-Sayings, and in August of that year joined the Post-Dispatch staff.

The Post-Dispatch office was then on Olive street, west of Broadway. Most of the illustrative work of the art department was in charcoal. Mr. Martin was associated in his early work with Harry S. Martin, not a relative, who became widely known as a humorous illustrator. Carlisle Martin developed talent both in cartoon work and in facial portrayal, the work to which he later gave much of his attention. Early in his work with the Post-Dispatch, Mr. Martin drew what became one of the most famous cartoon series printed in any American newspaper. These were the "Moon Yet" cartoons, satirizing Mayor Henry Ziegenheim and the municipal administration which in the fall of 1908 permitted the city to be left in darkness for several weeks.

The contract for electric (arc) street lighting expired at a time when the then new system of gas-mantle lighting had not been fully installed. The result was that the West End was without street lights until the new installation could be made. Mayor Ziegenheim's journalistic comment to a Post-Dispatch reporter who interviewed him on the matter was presented in the phrase, "We got a moon yet, ain't it?" This was the basis for the cartoons, in which the Mayor's round face, with the odd sugar-loaf hair which he wore, appeared as the moon in the skies beaming benignly on St. Louis. Joseph W. Folk, who was elected Circuit Attorney in November, 1900, used to say that the "Moon Yet" cartoons were his greatest help in his election, and in defeating the candidate of the Republican city administration.

WALTER E. BENNICK CANDIDATE AS JUDGE NIPPER'S SUCCESSOR

Commissioner of St. Louis Court of Appeals Seeks Republican Nomination.

Commissioner Walter E. Bennick of the St. Louis Court of Appeals has announced he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for the unexpired term of Judge Simon G. Nipper of that court, whose resignation takes effect Sept. 1. Circuit Judge Norton also has been spoken of as a candidate. Commissioner Bennick has been a member of the court since June 18, 1925.

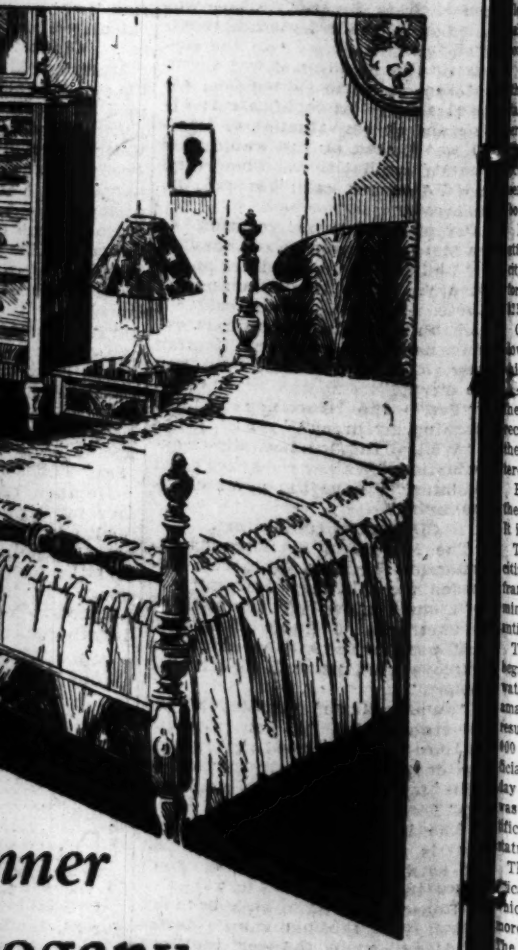

The nominations for the office, which the vacancy occurred too late to be indicated in the nominations in the recent primary, will be made by members of the party committees of St. Louis and 23 counties which comprise the St. Louis Court of Appeals district. Four years from Jan. 1 are left of Judge Nipper's term, and pending the election of his successor it will be necessary for the Governor to make a temporary appointment.

Judge Nipper resigned to resume the practice of law.

Coast Guard Cutter Burns. By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—Coast Guard Cutter No. 932, caught fire and burned this afternoon off Clinton, Staten Island. The crew was taken off by two tugs that stood by. Officers at Base Two of the Coast Guard on Staten Island said the boat was a total loss.

Illustration. Rolla Wells was elected Mayor the following year.

For more than 20 years, Mr. Martin had drawn and lettered the Weather Bird, which appears on the first page of the daily and Sunday Post-Dispatch. Close observers of this feature are aware that the bird drawing is never the same on any two days. Mr. Martin gave his spare time at the office to drawing a supply of these birds, which he pictured in all seasons and costumes. The feature was originated by Harry B. Martin. Mr. Martin had special aptitude for sketching persons, and frequently accompanied interviewers to illustrate their work. He would ask his subject for a photograph, but if he did not get the photograph, his drawing would, nevertheless, be lifelike, so that he frequently got requests for the original pen and ink copies. His long service on the Post-Dispatch had one interruption, when he worked for a time on the St. Louis Republic, returning to this paper in 1897. During his recent vacation, Mr. Martin visited his son in Indianapolis.

JANITOR'S DIAMOND RINGS

CAUSE ARREST IN ROBBERIES

Detectives Say James George Admitted Theft From Tenants; Had Stones Reset.

James George, a janitor at the Westmoreland Apartments, 6330 Pershing avenue, wore two diamond rings when he went out in the evening, thereby arousing the suspicions of several residents of the building, who had been victims of jewel robberies.

Arrested by detectives last night, George admitted, police say, that he stole the two diamonds he was wearing from the apartment of Mrs. Alvin Abramson last January. The precious stones originally were set in platinum mountings with other stones, the jewelry being valued by Mrs. Abramson at $850. George explained, according to police, that he discarded the original mountings, and had the diamonds reset.

George also confessed, detectives report, that he stole a diamond ring belonging to Mrs. Wattle Holm, wife of the Cardinal utility player, from the Holm apartment and hid the ring in a vacant apartment. George is 28 years old and lived in the building with his wife and child. He is held pending application for warrants.

UNSET FRACTURE FOUND IN MOUND-BUILDER'S SKELETON

Doctor Notes Teeth Were Worn Down by Gritty Food in Excavating Illinois Belles.

An unset fracture and teeth worn down by excessively gritty food were found by Dr. P. F. Titterton of 6615 Waterman avenue and Kyle L. Sly of 4400 Olive street among parts of 15 Indian skeletons excavated recently in Jersey County, Illinois.

The fracture, in a thigh bone, had knitted strongly but, the physician remarked, in such fashion that the leg was probably an inch or so shorter than the other. Ten of the skeletons, charred as though by fire, were found 18 inches below the apex of mound 82 feet long, 35 feet wide and 5 1/2 feet high. Five skeletons uncharred, were found nearer the edge of the mound.

SUIT FOR $100,000 DAMAGES

Claims Made for Man's Death in Plane Accident.

Suit for $100,000 damages on account of the death of Bernie M. Goldsmith, president of the Goldsmith Clothing Co., 1706 Washington avenue, in a passenger airplane accident was filed in Circuit Court today by the executors under his will. The suit is directed against American Airways, Inc., owner of the plane, whose local office is at 1201 Locust street, negligence being alleged.

The accident occurred near San Bernardino, Cal., last March 19. The petition sets forth that Goldsmith's earnings exceeded $25,000 a year and that his wife, Mrs. Violet Goldsmith, 6665 Washington avenue, and child were wholly dependent on him for support. The suit is filed under a California statute, the plaintiffs being Mrs. Goldsmith, David P. Wohl and the St. Louis Trust Co., executors.

PROTESTING MINERS' LEADER SHOT DEAD AT BENTON HOME

nection with the strike movement. He was sleeping, he said, and failed to see the red lanterns which the deputies, declared they waived at him. The authorities announced he would be arrested for reckless driving and trying to assault the officers.

Active picketing of Christian County mines near the Sangamon County line was started this morning and 100 miners from Pawnee, Diverson and Auburn were stopped at Pawnee and persuaded to go home by an automobile load of soldiers. Pawnee is just outside the Christian County line.

State Highway Policeman Fred Nuocelli of Auburn dispersed the miners, who had gathered in front of the Pawnee High School. He offered to escort any miners willing to go to work to the mine but only one miner accepted the offer.

Pickets Stop Livestock Work. One hundred pickets succeeded today in preventing resumption of operations at the New Staunton Coal Co. mine at Livingston in Madison County. The mine had been working under the old scale of $6.10 and last night whistles blew for resumption under the new contract.

Mines were taken into custody on charges of resisting officers. Unable to furnish $500 bond, he was lodged in the Christian County jail.

Christian County's 1500 special Deputy Sheriffs promised "plenty of opposition" today if striking coal miners from adjacent counties seek to carry out their announced intention of invading Taylorville tomorrow.

The striking miners, disaffected with a new wage scale recently put into effect and determined to picket mines here where other union miners are at work, made final plans at Springfield yesterday for the Taylorville invasion.

As they adjourned one of their leaders said: "Men, come back Thursday prepared to stay two days. Don't bring any firearms; bring your fists. Bring your arms and money, if you have any, but don't bring firearms; get that straight."

The dissenting miners also sent a committee to protest to Gov. Louis L. Emerson against the action of Sheriff Charles W. Winkler of Christian County in having his 1500 special Deputy Sheriffs blockade all highways leading into the county. The Governor, however, was ill and unable to receive them.

Meanwhile Sheriff Winkler was augmenting his force of "home guards." Nearly every available man in the county was sworn in as a special deputy. Business and professional men, together with clerks, farmers and laborers, constitute the guard.

"Christian County is ready," Winkler said, "but it is not court-judging trouble. If they come there will be plenty of opposition."

Mayor Cud Winkler of Taylorville said Christian County miners had ratified the wage scale of $5 a day by a two to one vote. "They feel this entitled them to work if they want to and the rest of us are going to see that they are not molested."

Six College Students, Arrested at Benton, Freed.

BENTON, Ill., Aug. 17.—Six college students who were arrested when they came here to investigate conditions in the coal fields of Southern Illinois were released from jail last night and escorted out of Franklin County by Deputy Sheriff.

Gerry Allard, representative of six local miners' unions, and his wife, Irene, who were arrested as they were escorting the students about West Frankfort, south of here, also were released.

Officers exacted a promise from the students that they would "stay out of Franklin County and stay out." The students were Joseph Hamburger and Henry Forbide of Commonwealth (Labor) College, Mena, Ark., and Victor Sueria, Fred Clatsen, A. O. Carlson and his wife, Beatrice, all of whom described themselves as University of Chicago students.

Only Two of 41 Belleville District Mines Operating.

All but two of the 41 coal mines in the Belleville subdistrict were idle today because of the dispute over the $5-a-day wage scale.

At the Moffitt Mine at Sparta, in the Belleville district, 300 miners went to work this morning unmolested by pickets. An advance crew of a dozen men went into the Muren Mine at Belleville this morning preparatory to the reopening of the mine tomorrow. The majority of the miners in the Belleville subdistrict voted opposition to the reduced wage scale last week.

Still in Training Camp, Ordered to Be Prepared.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—The Daily News says Maj. Gen. Roy D. Koehn has instructed 1000 members of the Illinois National Guard encamped at Camp Grant to be ready to move any part of the Thirty-third Division into the mine trouble zone in Southern Illinois.

Gen. Koehn issued the order after receiving a memorandum from Adjut. Gen. Carlos E. Black, advising him of developments in the mine area. He said he would act only if the situation got out of the hands of local authorities.

Clock Firm Re-employs 400.

WATERBURY, Conn., Aug. 17.—Four hundred employees of the Waterbury Clock Co. were called to work this morning, bringing a temporary end to the strike.

Each week management announced over the radio by which all employees were to be paid a half of the wages of two or three of the officers said they Liberty bells, about 100 men, Father Cox said, a month.

PHILLIPS CO. AND UNION COME TO AGREEMENT

East St. Louis Labor Agent Says Difficulties Have Been Settled.

Leo W. Quick, business agent for the Pullman's Union, told a Post-Dispatch reporter this afternoon that the dispute between East St. Louis labor unions and the Phillips Petroleum Co. has been adjusted.

Quick and other labor leaders met with representatives of the oil company at a St. Louis hotel this morning, and it was agreed that all future construction work and painting at the plant south of East St. Louis would be performed by union men, Quick said. The labor leader quoted the company representatives to the effect that the Graver Tank & Manufacturing Co. of East Chicago, which had employed non-union workmen in the construction of eight new storage tanks on the East Side, had surrendered its contract.

Quick withdrew the pickets, stationed daily at Eighth street and Piggott avenue to prevent Phillips trucks from leaving the plant. It is expected that the company will immediately begin making deliveries of gasoline to its own four stations and the independent stations it served until the trouble started last week.

John J. Hallihan, East St. Louis Commissioner of Public Buildings, charged at a meeting of the City Council today that 25 special policemen appointed by Chief of Police Leahy as a result of the labor dispute, are holding the positions illegally.

Commissioner Hallihan pointed out that the men are not under bond, and he said that, for the appointments to be legal, bonds must be approved by the City Council.

Chief Leahy said the special officers are being paid $130.50 a month, plus mileage, and that the money is being donated by East St. Louis Business men. He said the appointment was an "emergency measure."

They have been doing ordinary police duty while a detail of regular policemen was stationed at Eighth street and Piggott avenue. The police have made no effort to protect the oil truck drivers, but merely have observed the union men drive away in pursuit of the trucks.

Carl Shelton, notorious gangster, was employed as a guard at the Phillips plant until the latter part of last week. Last Thursday night, Oliver Alden Moore, president of the Central Trades Council, was murdered by machine gunners. He told Deputy Sheriffs and a reporter just before the killing that Shelton had threatened him. Chief Leahy, however, said he asked Shelton about this after the murder and Shelton told him it was not correct, and asserted he was elsewhere at the time of the murder.

George Diehl, a union electrician, owner of the automobile pierced by 12 machine-gun bullets the night Moore was killed has outlined the bullet holes with white paint and on each side and the rear has painted, "Death, Car" in large white letters. Diehl parked his machine on Main street, across from Police Headquarters this afternoon, after attaching the following sign to the top: "This car was fired on by the slayers of Ollie Moore, labor leader of East St. Louis and director of controversy with Phillips Petroleum Co."

Diehl told a reporter he plans to exhibit the machine in other communities where the Phillips company has interests.

FARLEY AND RASKOB AGREE ON WAY TO PAY PARTY DEBT

Chairman Tells of Arrangement; Denies Story Repudiation Was Attempted.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—James A. Farley, Democratic national chairman, after a conference with former Chairman John J. Raskob, today announced that satisfactory arrangements had been made to liquidate the party's debts.

Others at the conference were Robert Jackson and Frank C. Walker, secretary and treasurer, respectively, of the National Committee.

"Many stories have appeared in the press in the last two weeks, emanating from sources entirely unknown to us, which would indicate that the Democratic National Committee is attempting to avoid or repudiate its honest debt," Farley said in a statement issued after the conference. "Such, of course, is not and could not be the case, as these are legal obligations incurred in building the party into the pre-eminent and strong position it occupies today.

"Arrangements have been made with the holders of our obligations covering their liquidation which are satisfactory to all concerned."

F. D. ROOSEVELT JR. ARRESTED

By the Associated Press.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 17.—An automobile driven by Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., son of the New York Governor and Democratic presidential nominee, was stopped by a State trooper in Centerville yesterday when the trooper observed the youth driving fast, but not excessively. In a subsequent checkup Roosevelt was found to be driving on a license which had expired, according to Lieut. George H. Robbins of State Police Headquarters.

Roosevelt was detained for questioning, but soon afterward was allowed to proceed to Albany, N. Y., his destination, with a Rhode Island licensed driver. Robbins said no charge had been placed against Roosevelt. He was on his way from Newport to Albany.

TIN PLANTS CLOSE AFTER MEN REFUSE NON-UNION PROPOSAL

Follansbee Mills at Follansbee, W. Va., and Toronto, O., Suspend Indefinitely.

By the Associated Press.

STUBENVILLE, O., Aug. 17.—Announcement of indefinite closing of its tin plants at Follansbee, W. Va., and Toronto, O., was made by the Follansbee Brothers Co. yesterday. Relations with the Amalgamated Association were severed recently and workers were asked to return to the plants under non-union conditions. The proposal was refused.

By the Associated Press.

BLOOMSBURG, Pa., Aug. 17.—The Reading Iron Co. announced yesterday it had recalled 110 men to work, and at the same time put the workers in the puddle mill on double shift. The 12-inch rolling mill started today, and the 12-inch rolling mill will reopen tomorrow, officials said.

By the Associated Press.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Aug. 17.—Seventy-five employees of the John S. Britain Dry Goods Co. have been recalled for the reopening of the company overall plant. The factory has been closed several weeks. Within a few days 25 more workers will be taken back.

Another Election Contest.

Clarence Hammond filed suit in Circuit Court yesterday contesting the election of Charles M. Reardon as Democratic City Commissioner in the Twenty-third Ward. On the face of the returns in the recent primary Reardon defeated Hammond by 27 votes, but the latter asserts a recount, if granted, would show irregularities. He contends that due to such irregularities he was deprived of victory and that he actually received a large majority over Reardon.

EXCURSION BOAT HITS ROCK, 781 LAND SAFELY

Investigation Under Way to Fix Responsibility for Accident Near Louisville.

By the Associated Press.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 17.—A crowd of 745 excursionists from New Albany, Ind., and the steamer's crew of 22 were landed safely last night after the excursion boat City of Memphis struck a rock and almost sank in the Ohio River here.

The crippled craft limped to shore, its hull torn open and the stern half submerged.

An investigation by the local office of the United States Inspector of Steam Vessels was under way today.

and the passengers to put on life preservers. A levy of smaller craft and a Coast Guard boat followed the steamer as she churned shoreward.

First reports to police were that the boat had caught fire and capsized. Newspaper offices were swamped with calls from anxious friends and relatives of those on board.

The City of Memphis, listed as owned by several Tennessee men, has been in the excursion business here all summer. Only last week she was inspected and pronounced in first-class condition. Her pilot is Capt. Nick Durand of Louisville.

Officers Avert Panic.

Prompt action of the ship's officers averted a panic among the passengers, Capt. J. E. Gloasbrenner said. As the steamer smashed against a rock near a dam, the officers ordered the orchestra to keep playing and the calliope broke forth with a lively tune. The passengers, most of whom were playing cards or dancing at the time, so long there was no danger so long as they followed orders.

Fearing the boat would be unable to make shore from the middle of the river, Capt. Gloasbrenner ordered the lifeboats launched

RAILWAY SIGNALMEN OPPOSE WAGE SLASH

Declare Lines Have Not Carried Out Promises Made to Workers.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—A resolution opposing a further wage reduction by railroads was adopted yesterday by delegates to the convention of the Brotherhood of Railway Signalmen.

The convention, represented about 10,000 railway employees in the United States and Canada.

Resolutions were adopted charging that the railroads have not fulfilled certain promises made when the 10 per cent reduction was negotiated last February.

L. R. Smith, vice president of the organization, said the railroads had not made efforts to stabilize employment, and had not carried out their promise to use savings resulting from the 10 per cent cut to re-employ furloughed workers. Instead, he said, further reductions in employment had been made.

GAULFIELD SAYS NATION CAN'T PROSPER UNLESS FARMER DOES

He Reminds Agriculturalists of Blessing of Food and Shelter
Now, However.

By the Associated Press.

GOLDEN CITY, Mo., Aug. 17.—The farm is the foundation of the republic and the nation cannot prosper unless the farmers prosper, Gov. Henry R. Caulfield said in an address before several hundred farmers at the sixth annual field meeting and picnic at the Gene Pool farm, near here, yesterday.

The Governor told the farmers that they did not know "what a blessing it is to be living on a farm with a shelter and plenty to eat."

He compared such a situation with the lot of jobless and homeless in the cities.

Praising President Hoover, Caulfield said "No president has done as much for agriculture and for business in general."

The Governor also urged a reduction of bureau, boards and commissions in Missouri to reduce Government expenditures. He delivered his address from a hay wagon.

Municipal League Officer Divorced.

RENO, Nev., Aug. 17.—George H. Hallett Jr., National Municipal League executive, divorced Mrs. Mary Spencer Lee Hallett here yesterday, then obtained a license to wed Mrs. Ruth Dickinson Newton, who likewise had been divorced only a few minutes before from Robert Ray Newton of Philadelphia. Hallett said he was 37 years old, and Mrs. Newton said she was 38.

JACKSON COUNTY VOTE INQUIRY URGED BY KIEL

Gov. Caulfield Requested to Investigate Pendergast Primary Methods.

By the Associated Press.

A demand for an investigation of the primary election in Jackson County was made by Gov. Caulfield yesterday at Jefferson City by former Mayor Kiel, Republican nominee for United States Senator.

Kiel told the Governor that he regarded as suspicious phenomena the top-heavy majorities piled up by the Pendergast candidates for United States Senator and Governor, Charles M. Howell and Frank M. Wilson, respectively, and declared he believed the situation warranted a complete inquiry into election methods employed in the county and particularly in Kansas City.

Kiel reported that Gov. Caulfield replied that he intended to visit Kansas City shortly to discuss the results of the primaries with the Board of Election Commissioners there, who are appointees of the Governor.

Of the candidates to whose Jackson County majorities Kiel called particular attention, Wilson was nominated, and Howell was defeated by Bennett C. Clark.

Winter to Make Pendergast an Issue in His Campaign.

Edward H. Winter, Republican nominee for Governor, will wage his fight against Francis M. Wilson, the Democratic candidate, chiefly on the issue of "boomism," he announced here last night.

His campaign will include a campaign against T. J. Pendergast, Jackson County boss and sponsor of the Wilson candidacy. Winter declared that attacks on Wilson as a machine candidate were responsible for Wilson's loss of St. Louis in the primary to his opponent, Russell L. Dearth.

RED CROSS NURSES ON PONIES CARRY AID TO TEXAS VILLAGES

More Than 1000 Left Without Means of Livelihood; Homeless in Two Towns Alone 2000.

By the Associated Press.

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 17.—Relief is being sent to victims of the hurricane which last week-end devastated an area of coastal Texas inland from Galveston and took 20 lives.

Red Cross nurses on Texas ponies rode through debris littered roads into little communities, taking necessities of life and first aid; coast guard boats were ordered into action from several Gulf of Mexico points and an airplane yesterday flew over Freeport, one of the towns hardest hit, and dropped a note telling of the coming of a launch with water, milk and clothing.

The hurricane, which struck first at Galveston, did little damage there but caused heavy loss in Brazoria County especially at West Columbia, Angleton and Freeport.

Local relief committees estimated more than 1000 persons were without a means of livelihood and the number of homeless in Angleton and West Columbia alone were estimated to total 3000. Most of these without means of subsistence were tenant farmers whose cotton and rice crops were destroyed.

The seriously injured exceeded 50.

TWO DROWNED IN FLOODS AT ENID AND CHEROKEE, OK.

Six Persons Missing After Cloudburst; 24 Feet of Water in Latter Town.

By the Associated Press.

ENID, Ok., Aug. 17.—Two women were drowned and six persons were reported missing today in floods at Enid and Cherokee.

Maggie McFarland, 47 years old, of Marshall, was swept to her death a quarter of a mile east of Enid, following a 16.75-inch rain.

Two men who tried to rescue her—Andrew Brady and Luther Miller—clung to tree tops for hours before they were saved. An elderly pair living in a low section of Enid were unaccounted for.

At Cherokee, where all but three blocks were inundated overnight by three and a half feet of water, Mrs. Sam Cullen, an elderly woman, was drowned in a swift current as she and her husband fled from their home in their nightclothes. Her body was found.

Four others were reported missing at Cherokee, where 12 inches of rain sent Cottonwood Creek out of its banks, darkened the city, washed out bridges and killed cattle and caused $300,000 livestock damage. Two hotels and every store in town were flooded and hundreds were made temporarily homeless.

Flood Near Kirksville, Mo.

KIRKSVILLE, Mo., Aug. 17.—Flood waters cover lowlands for a width of a mile along some sections of the Chariton River, following three inches of rain Monday. For a distance of about 20 miles the river is out of its banks, causing damage to crops. Traffic over State Highway No. 1, which crosses the river near Newburg, south of here, is halted, with the roadbed under about three feet of water. Service on the Iowa & St. Louis Railroad between Elmer, Mo., and Sedan, Ia., has been interrupted.

School Head's Son Electrocuted.

SMITHVILLE, Mo., Aug. 17.—When standing on an iron stove register, Edwin Russell Cramer, two years old, touched a nearby floor lamp in which there was a short circuit and was electrocuted. He was the son of E. B. Cramer, superintendent of the Smithville schools.

AS YOU DESIRE ME

to make skin soft, youthful —firm yet yielding

this much OLIVE OIL goes into every cake of Palmolive →

RIGHT now—touch your own skin with your finger tips. Is it soft, smooth, youthful? Is it firm yet yielding to your touch? Is it quite as you desire it? Then think! How can you seem desirable to others?

Charm can be yours! Skin can be kept young indefinitely. And you—no matter what you think—may have a youthful, firm skin. But you must follow expert advice. Read the simple rule experts give you.

Olive oil beautifies! But how to use it? More than 20,000 beauty experts answer—in soap—in Palmolive—the one great soap the beauty ingredient of which is largely olive oil. Use it—they say—diligently, faithfully. Use it on face and neck—on the whole body. Rub the rich youth-giving lather right into the skin.

Then see the result! Your reward will be the skin of youth. Because Palmolive does soothe, smooth and soften skin. It does tone skin to youthful firmness. It will give your skin that charm—that freshness—that something which makes you—keeps you desirable.

COUNTY REPUBLICANS ELECT FRANK BURKAMP

Democrats Choose Con P. Curran as Chairman of Central Committee.

Frank Burkamp was elected chairman of the St. Louis County Republican Central Committee yesterday and Con P. Curran was named chairman of the Democratic Central Committee.

Burkamp, a clerk in the office of Circuit Clerk Jacobsmeyer and chairman of the St. Ferdinand Township, was chosen by acclamation after he had six votes to four for F. William Autenrieth, the retiring chairman.

The other officers, as Burkamp, had the backing of the Schmid-Jacobsmeyer faction. They are Mrs. Rose Fearnley, Central Township, vice chairman; Mrs. Louise Dahl, Bonneville Township, secretary, and Mrs. Lillian McLean, Meramec Township, treasurer.

Curran, head of the Democratic Committee, is in the printing business and was the financial sponsor in this vicinity of the successful candidacy of Francis M. Wilson, Democratic nominee for Governor. Curran succeeds Clarence Shotwell, nominated for the State Senate.

Other officers of the Democratic Committee: Mrs. Florence Kirk, Carondelet Township, vice chairman; Mrs. Marie Boehmer, Central Township, secretary, and Sidney Shotwell, Meramec Township, treasurer.

LINDERBERG REQUESTS NO MORE PUBLICITY BE GIVEN NEW SON

Makes Appeal That Child Be Allowed "to Grow Up Normally Like Other Children."

By the Associated Press.
ENGLEWOOD, N. J., Aug. 17.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh sent out a statement yesterday expressing the hope there would not be continued publicity on the birth of his son.

"Mrs. Lindbergh and I have made our home in New Jersey," he said, "it is naturally our wish to continue to live there near our friends and interests. Obviously, however, it is impossible for us to subject the life of our second son to the publicity which we feel was in a large measure responsible for the death of our first. We feel that our children have a right to grow up normally with other children. Continued publicity will make this impossible. I am appealing to the press to permit our children to lead the lives of normal Americans."

Friends seemed agreed that the baby would probably be named after his famous grandfather, the late Senator Dwight Morrow. No statement was forthcoming, but the health of mother and child was believed to be good.

A dispatch from Glasgow said members of the family of Betty Gow, who was the nurse of Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr., when he was kidnapped, said she would return to the United States in October to act as nurse for the new Lindbergh baby.

45-YEAR SENTENCE SET ASIDE; PLEADS GUILTY, GETS 14 YEARS

Marion (Ill.) Banker Had Been Convicted of Murder of Son-in-Law.

By the Associated Press.
MARION, Ill., Aug. 17.—The conviction of murder and 45-year sentence given George Gahn, former Johnston City banker, for the killing of his son-in-law, Owen Stille, was set aside yesterday by Circuit Judge D. T. Stillwell, upon motion for a new trial by defense counsel.

Gahn then pleaded guilty of murder and was sentenced to 14 years in the penitentiary. His daughter, Stille's widow, was the principal witness for the State and she was unwilling to testify against Gahn.

IRVING BUSH'S SON WEDS AGAIN

Bride Is Daughter of Kansas City Automobile Man.

By the Associated Press.
KANSAAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 17.—Rufus T. Bush, 24 years old, son of Irving Bush, head of the Bush Terminal Co. of New York, has embarked on his second matrimonial venture.

He was married here yesterday to Miss Jane Louise Reid of Kansas City, and immediately left on a honeymoon trip to an undisclosed destination "in the South." The identity of the bridegroom was revealed today by Mrs. Rollo W. Reid, the bride's mother. Court records at Bentonville, Ark., near Bella Vista, given by the bridegroom as his address, show Rufus T. Bush was granted a divorce Aug. 12 from Mrs. Joan Jeffrey Bush, who filed suit against him in New York March 18 for separation.

In her petition, Mrs. Joan Bush alleged her husband had made trips to Kansas City to visit a girl named "Jane" and had entertained her in his New York apartment. The father of the bride is president of a motor car sales company here.

Hotel Guest and Porter in Fight

James Ramas, a chef residing at the Laclede Hotel, 519 Chestnut street, and Jim Brown, Negro porter at the hotel, were taken to hospitals early today for treatment of injuries suffered in an altercation. Ramas had cuts on the head and a stab wound in the back and Brown cuts on the face, head and arms.

Candidate Acquitted of Slander

FARIBAULT, Minn., Aug. 17.—F. H. Shoemaker of Red Wing, Farmer-Labor candidate for Congress, was acquitted yesterday by a jury in Municipal Court of a charge of criminal slander. Congressman August H. Anderson of Red Wing was the complainant.

Missing Cleveland Man Found. By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—Carl W. Olson, secretary of a Cleveland steel treating company, for whom a search has been made since the finding of a note indicating he planned to end his life in the catara-act at Niagara Falls, was found in a park here last night by friends. His mental condition, they said, was too serious to permit question- ing. He was placed in a hospital. His automobile was found near Niagara Falls Saturday.

D. S. GODFREY AND R. E. GRUNER HEAD CITY COMMITTEES

Former Named by Democrats, Defeating J. J. Mestres, Who Had Held Post 12 Years.

The Democratic and Republican City committees, which organized yesterday, will enter the coming campaign with new leadership. There was a shakeup of the principal officers, following election of the committee in the primary, in which about a quarter of the personnel of each was changed.

Dewey S. Godfrey, lawyer, Seventeenth Ward, succeeds Joseph J. Mestres, clerk in the court of Justice of the Peace Rice, Seventh Ward, as chairman of the Democratic Committee as the result of a revolt in the membership.

Richard E. Gruner, lumber dealer, Twenty-fifth Ward, succeeds Fred W. Pape, Park Commissioner and nominee for Sheriff, Eleventh Ward, as head of the Republican Committee, Pape not seeking re-election.

Mestres was the Democratic chairman for 12 years but his opponents complained that the few Democrats who carried St. Louis during his leadership did so largely because of outside influences. They also asserted that the Mestres faction was more interested in a few minor offices carrying patronage than in the general success of the ticket, and that campaign funds were scarce as a result.

Mestres was one of the committeemen supporting Charles M. Howell of Kansas City, who lost the nomination for United States Senator. Repudiation of Mestres and his followers for aiding Howell was urged before the primary by Senator Hawes. A progressive element in the committee elected the aid of Justice of the Peace "Jimmy" Miller, Fourth Ward boss, who turned against Mestres. The outcome was apparent before the vocal voting on the first question was finished. This was the selection of Harry J. Cantwell, Twenty-fifth Ward, as temporary chairman. Cantwell, who engineered the Godfrey coup, defeated Mestres for this place, 30 of 52.

Then the Godfrey-Cantwell faction brought up the question of permitting proxies to vote. Three proxies favorable to Mestres and one favorable to Godfrey were present. The vote was denied them, 23 to 22. Godfrey defeated Mestres for permanent chairman, 22 to 19. Those voting for Mestres were State Senator Brogan, Third Ward; John J. Moroney, sixth; Mestres himself; James J. Fitzsimmons, eighth; Constable John V. Byrne, eighth; William Cullinane Jr., nineteenth, a new member; John P. English, twenty-fourth, and 13 committeewomen.

Cantwell, who attorney for the United Service Car Co., defeated English for treasurer, 26 to 23. The Cantwell-Godfrey group had looked for the aid of English and some of his associates, and charged afterwards that there was a defection for which L. J. Gualdoni of the State committee was responsible. They will oppose Gualdoni for re-election to the State committee. Fitzsimmons, who was treasurer, did not seek re-election.

Other officers, chosen by acclamation, are: Miss Nell Meehan, Twentieth Ward, vice-chairman; Mrs. Mada Wood, eighth, re-elected secretary; John Lynch, Sixteenth, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Maude Kaufman, Thirteenth, assistant sergeant-at-arms.

Gruner defeated Peter Anderson, 38-18, for G. O. P. Chairmanship. Gruner defeated Peter Anderson, plastering contractor, First Ward, for the Republican chairmanship, 28 to 18, in a secret ballot. There was no factional fight, as both candidates are aligned with Mayor Miller's forces. Miss Eva Marie Schopp, Fifteenth Ward, defeated Miss Clara M. Smith, Fourteenth, for the city's Free Legal Aid Bureau and president of the Republican Women's Club, for vice-chairman, 33 to 32. On two ballots they were elected.

Other officers, re-elected by acclamation, are: Charles R. Gillespie, city employee, Twenty-eighth Ward, treasurer; Mrs. Celeste T. Stoen, lawyer, Twentieth, secretary, and William E. Hubbs, Commissioner of Weights and Measures, Seventh, sergeant-at-arms. Election of officers on both party committees is for the next four years, as a new law makes the term of committee members in St. Louis four instead of two years.

For 37 years Gruner has been in the lumber business here and for the last 17 years he has been president of Philip Gruner & Bros. Lumber Co. For the last three years he has been a member of the city Board of Equalization, hearing complaints on tax assessments, by appointment of Mayor Miller. He is a cousin of W. P. Gruner, treasurer of Miller's last campaign. Richard Gruner resides at 5525 Waterman boulevard. He was a Major in the old First Regiment of the National Guard and saw service with it for a time on the Mexican border during the trouble of 1916, but resigned his commission and returned to his business here.

Move to Displace Greenwade as Democratic State Chairman. Elimination of C. W. Greenwade of Springfield, Mo., who has been chairman of the Democratic State Committee, as a candidate for re-election to the committee from the Seventh District, is indicated by the action of the Greene County Democratic Committee yesterday. Meeting at Springfield, the county group voted, 76 to 32, to endorse Sam M. Wear, Springfield lawyer, instead of Greenwade for the place on the State body.

Greenwade had been opposed for re-election as State chairman by Bennett C. Clark, nominee for Senator; Francis M. Wilson, nominee for Governor, and former Senator James A. Reed. Greenwade backed Charles M. Howell for Senator and Russell L. Dearthmont for Governor, and opposed Reed for President. His opponents decided to keep him off the State Committee, if possible. They favor Wear, but have not announced whom they will support for chairman.

The Greene County Committee re-elected Charles W. Dickey of Springfield, opponent of Greenwade, as its chairman. Mrs. Blanche Lewis of Mountain Grove, vice chairman of the State Committee, failed to obtain the endorsement of the Wright County Democratic Committee yesterday for re-election to the State group, because of her support for unsuccessful candidates for local party offices. A resolution to endorse her was not submitted.

The Greene County Republican Committee endorsed Arthur M. Curtis of Springfield, chairman of the Republican State Committee, for re-election to that group.

CITIZENS' BUREAU FINDING

A JOB EVERY 13 MINUTES

Steady Increase Shown in Number of Placements, Director Leo McCarthy Says.

Every 13 minutes that Citizens' Free Employment Bureau operates, a job is found for one of the 50,000 persons registered there as unemployed, says Leo McCarthy, director. He made his report yesterday to officers of Citizens' Committee. The bureau is situated at 1804 Washington avenue.

"It is significant," McCarthy wrote, "that while the United States Department of Labor employment index for St. Louis shows a decline each month, the Citizens' Free Employment Bureau shows a steady increase in the number of placements. Last week 206 applicants were placed in jobs, compared with 198 the week previous."

BANK ROBBERY FRUSTRATED

Two Women Flee and Are Caught at Greensburg, Pa.

By the Associated Press. GREENSBURG, Pa., Aug. 17.—Charged with attempting to rob the Community Savings and Loan Co., three Hammond (Ind.) residents are held in jail today.

Mrs. Alice Baughman, a clerk, said Mrs. Linda Marks, 65 years old, and Rose Marks, 22, entered the bank near closing time yesterday and demanded money. She sounded the burglar alarm and the women fled. Police and highway patrolmen pursued and captured the pair and George Marks, 24, all dressed as gypsies.

SEIZED FOR EXTORTION PLOT

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 17.—Harold Van Wagner, said by police to have prison and police records in Wisconsin, Kansas, Illinois and California, was arrested here yesterday on a charge of threatening the life of Mrs. Marie Campbell in an extortion plot. Authorities said Mrs. Campbell quoted Van Wagner as telling her, "I've been offered $500 to bump you off. Why not give me the dough and save your life?"

Fast in Chair, Smothers in Fire. CLEVELAND, Aug. 17.—Caught fast to a chair by his own clothes, Frank Lamara, 45 years old, died of suffocation early today while trying to escape from his home which was burning. Eight other persons left the building in safety. Firemen said Lamara, dressing in darkness, became so entangled in his clothing that he was unable to extricate himself.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS PLAN RELIEF FUND FOR MEMBERS

$1,000,000 Endowment Proposed. Made by Leader Is Indorsed By Council.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The supreme council of the Knights of Columbus yesterday indorsed the recommendation of Martin H. Carmody, supreme knight, for a million dollar endowment fund for relief purposes. A resolution adopted specified that the income from the fund should be "available for relief of our members and such worthy purposes as may arise."

Heretofore, Carmody explained, the Knights of Columbus always have donated to worthy causes, but have never raised money for the benefit of their own members. The supreme board will hold its next meeting in Detroit in October, at which time, Carmody said, a definite plan probably will be presented.

KREUGER BROKERAGE ACCOUNT HAS DEFICIT OF $500,000

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—Testimony that a balance of less than $500,000 remains in brokerage accounts maintained by Ivar Kreuger with Eastman, Dillon & Co. to offset a loan of $1,000,000 to the Swedish financier was introduced yesterday at a hearing before Referee Henry K. Davis.

Examination of Herbert L. Dillon, senior partner of the firm, and Roy B. Tomlin, chief accountant, brought out that a $504,173 deficit was left by the liquidation, after Kreuger's suicide, of Kreuger & Toll stock pledged for the loan. Creditors of Kreuger & Toll will meet here Aug. 23 to elect a trustee in bankruptcy. Virtually all interests have agreed on Duncan Auchincloss, New York lawyer, for the post.

Shoots Alleged Golf Ball Thief. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 17.—Charles Harringer Jr., professional golfer, yesterday shot and wounded a 14-year-old boy he charged with stealing golf balls used by players. The shooting occurred on the Moto Speedway course.

LEAD OF J. W. PALMER OVER ELVINS NOW 590

Sedalia Congressional Candidate Gains 'in Official Returns' From Buchanan and Jackson.

The plurality of former Congressman John W. Palmer of Sedalia over former Congressman Peabody Elvins of University City for the thirteenth place among Republicans as congressional nominees in the recent primary was increased to 590 yesterday upon receipt of official returns from Buchanan and Jackson counties.

Palmer had 122,394, Elvins 121,704 and Sam A. Clark, Carrollton newspaper publisher, who is in twelfth place, 121,351. Palmer gained approximately 100 votes over Elvins in Buchanan County and 200 votes in Jackson County in the official count.

Clark's margin over Palmer was reduced approximately 200 to a plurality of 937.

The plurality of Lieut. Gov. E. H. Winter over Secretary of State Charles U. Becker for the Republican gubernatorial nomination was increased to 6225, a gain of 129, upon receipt of official returns from about 30 additional counties.

With official figures from approximately three-fourths of the counties and unofficial from the remainder, Winter had 143,755 and Becker 137,433 votes. This represented a net loss of 23 for Winter and 151 for Becker in the revised figures.

SAYS BARGE LINE FIRED HIM, SUES FOR $310,000 DAMAGES

Carl J. Baer, Former Vice-President, Names Present Officers in Second Action.

Suit was filed in Circuit Court at Clayton yesterday by Carl J. Baer, former vice-president of the Mississippi Barge Line Co., against the company, its president, L. Wade Childress, and Frank C. Rand and Andrew W. Johnson, other officers, as co-defendants. The suit asks for a total of $310,249, of which $300,000 is for punitive damages. $10,249 is based on the reasonable value of plaintiff's services rendered to the Mississippi Valley Barge Line Co., $32,332 for the value of stock he owned in the Standard Unit Navigation Co., which was reorganized by the defendants into the present concern, and $18,488 based on the failure of defendants to comply with an alleged agreement in connection with certain shares of common stock of the Standard company, which were held by a bank as collateral security on a note.

The punitive damages sought are based on the alleged discharge of Baer by the defendant company's Board of Directors last March. He asserts this action cast a slur on his reputation and has greatly interfered with his ability to obtain positions from which he can earn money.

Recently Baer filed suit for $35,000 damages against the Mississippi Valley Barge Line Co., based on his dismissal without legal notice. He is represented in both actions by Attorneys Joseph T. Davis and James Campbell.

Childress said today he had no comment to make.

STENCH BOMB IN BUILDING

After receiving telephone instructions from an unidentified man to "go to the fourth floor and you will find a stench bomb," Sterling Brannon, assistant manager of the Paul Brown Building, yesterday found a bottle of stench liquid in a fourth-floor corridor.

Brannon told police that several weeks ago stench liquid was poured into a mail slot used by the United Business Service Co., occupying room 416, which is managed by Mrs. E. J. Gardner.

Chess Masters' Tournament.

PASADENA, CAL., Aug. 17.—Only two games were finished in the second round of the international chess masters' tournament. Arthur W. Duke of Portland, Ore., drew with Herrera, champion of New York. Reuben Fine New York, divided the point with Samuel Factor of Chicago. Four games were adjourned.

DOCTOR CALLED, FINDS SON DYING FROM BULLET WOUND

"Unidentified Boy," at Edgerwood, N. D., Turns Out to Be Physicist's Child.

By the Associated Press.

LIDGERWOOD, N. D., Aug. 17.—Someone called Dr. E. G. Sams at his office yesterday. "An unidentified boy," he was told, had been found dying from a bullet wound. Dr. Sams hurried to the scene. There he found his 9-year-old son, Wallace. Apparently the boy had shot himself accidentally while hunting with a target pistol. He died soon after his father's arrival.

PORELA GAINS REFEREE'S DECISION OVER PRIMO CARNERA

OFFICIAL MUST APPEAR BEFORE COMMISSION TO GIVE HIS REASON

By the Associated Press.
NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 17.—Stanley Porela, 23-year-old blond boxer of Jersey City, spotted Primo Carnera 82½ pounds last night and won the referee's decision after 10 rounds, but the arbiter of the contest must explain why.

Commissioner George E. Keenan, who was at the ring, wants to know exactly why Referee Joe Mangold of Atlantic City awarded the decision to Porela, and said he would ask Mangold to explain and show him his score card.

The 264-pound Italian was warned in ten rounds for roughness, that included back-hand blows, pulling and elbowing, and drew the boss of the crowd of 15,000.

Aside from that, Carnera exhibited a whipping left hand that jabbed Porela's head and again, but the Jersey youngster supplied his own telling blows in the late rounds and reached Carnera's mid-section with clouts that made the big fellow wince and double up.

Porela indicated his attack at the start, aiming at his foe's massive mid-section. Carnera's whipping left kept Porela away from the way, but Porela began to reach his mark in the seventh and made the Italian wince and double up in that session and again in the ninth and tenth rounds.

Carnera resisted his first warning from the referee in the opening round when his mauling tactics once set Porela halfway through the ropes. He took the honors in the second with his left-handed jab and with a two-fisted attack in a neutral corner. Both fouled in the third. The giant was again warned for fouling in the fourth.

Porela won the fifth when he stopped inside Carnera's guard and with a two-fisted attack broke the Italian's defense. The Jersey boxer scored his best hit in the same round, a one-two that caught Carnera both high and low.

Left jab sent Carnera ahead in the eighth and he was caught by catching Porela with both hands as he attempted to reach a vital spot. Porela took the last two rounds with body blows.

CARDS' GAME WITH PHILS POSTPONED; TWO GAMES TOMORROW

This time two years ago, with an extra game to play, no question about it, the Cardinals know that they have a splendid chance and the realism and the ambition is reflected in their play. Charley Gelbert is leaning this way and that, ever alert, and he is once more the best shortstop in the league. When things were going bad, Charley like all the other Cardinals, was playing listless. He was going through the motions, but he lacked the spark. He has it now and he is spearing batters behind the second, and throwing out his men whereas during the big slump he was just missing potentially spectacular plays by a fraction of a step.

Give Reese a Hand.
Jimmy Reese also has helped to pep up the Redbirds. The little type of a man certainly has earned his salt since he was obtained from St. Paul. He is a cut out there at second base. He leaps into the air, dives for base runners, and toward first and behind second and when the Cardinals divide whatever spoils the season brings them, Reese can collect his with the knowledge that he did a man-sized share in earning it.

You have to call the roll now to give each deserving player credit for helping the Redbirds to win eight of their last nine games. Jim Bottomley has fielded brilliantly and his batting has been timely and at times devastating.

Outstanding, of course, among the Cardinal fighters are George Watkins and Ernie Ott. They never gave up. They never complained. Whether the score was 9 to 6 against them or reversed in their favor, Ott and Watkins fought on all year like the fighters that they are.

Each has played every outfield position and made a good job of it. Watkins started in right, shifted to center and then to left. Ott, who played right and left satisfactorily, but now he has taken possession of center field and scarcely a day passes without the little Italian thrilling the spectators with a desperate, game-saving catch.

Tenpin Match Tonight.
The team representing the Grand-Herbert alleys will step into fast company when it engages the Hermanns of the Major City Scratches League tonight, at 8:30 o'clock. Ray Holmes, captain, has for the balance of his team, Conner Herman, Art Schaefer, Lowell Jackson and Sam Garafolo; while the Grand-Herbert lineup shows Frank Hoeschen, William Murphy, captain; W. Racker, Ed Thiemeier and Harold Schaefer. Total pins for three games will count.

Sport Salad

Meet the Babe.
B ABE DIBRICKSON just hates conceit. But firmly she'll assert that she's the greatest athlete that ever wore a skirt.

And furthermore, the doughty "Tex" will tell the world she thinks a championship she may annex upon the golfing links.

Hurrah for Babe! Long may she live. To thrill the crowded stand! Now let us all join in and give "The Kid Girl" a hand.

"Kid McCoy Forgets Padded Mitts for Hoes." The man who was known as "The Man With the Hoe."

"Orab Feast Carded by Orleto Gunner." The greatest outdoor sport, perhaps.

In shooting crabs instead of craps. "Pirates Best, Says Gibson." You don't, by any chance, mean "beated," do you George?

It didn't require a kodak to separate Bill Carr and Ben Eastman in the 400-meter race at Los Angeles. Bill led by five feet.

Bill Carr, who hails from Pine Bluff, Ark., must be a lineal descendant of the Arkansas Traveler, who had quite a reputation for getting over the ground in jig-time.

"Alligator Found on Courthouse Lawn." PERHAPS it had a case in litigation. And came there to deny the allegation.

In court, no doubt a lawyer met it later. And tried to alibi the alligator. Mickey Walker and Max Schmeling have been matched to fight on Sept. 19. And the records of both men indicate that "fight" is the correct word.

The Toy Bulldog doesn't know what it is to back up and the bat cry of the German is "Vorwaerts!" Hence the meeting should result in quite an exchange of fist-cuffs.

A Long Shot.
BUT who will be the referee? Ten thousand bucks to one rupee. It isn't "Gunboat" Smith!

The indications are that "Gunboat" shot his bolt in the Sharkey-Schmeling fight. Anyway with the Toy Bulldog in there doing his stuff, the affair will have all the earmarks of a dog fight. And don't let anybody pop out from behind a lamp post and try to tell you that the customers pay their money to see anything else.

They Like 'Em Hot.
THEY like to see the "ruddy" flow. And splash upon the floor; And that is why they pay their dough.

To pass on through the door.

43 COLTS AND FILLIES ARE SOLD FOR $25,650
By the Associated Press.
SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 17.—Colts and fillies are going at the lowest prices in years at the Saratoga yearling sales, now in progress. Prices generally have averaged under $1000 since the sales began.

Last night 43 head were offered for $25,650, averaging $595. P. M. Walker paid top price of the night with a bid of $2500 for a chestnut colt by High Time—Lady Ambassador. He also paid $2000 for a bay colt by Bright Knight—Rock Haven.

Walker Cup Stars All Qualify For Play in Amateur Tourney; Summerville's 140 Best Score
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—All 10 members of the Walker Cup team and seven former titleholders will be on hand when the national amateur golf championship opens at Baltimore, Sept. 12.

That much—and more—was determined yesterday in the sectional qualifying rounds played in 18 districts. Nine members of the squad, George Voigt, Maurice McCarthy, Jess Sweetser, George Dunlap, Jack Westing, Don Moes, Billy Howell, Jimmy Johnston and Charley Seaver, qualified in one district or another. The tenth member of the team and its captain, Francis Outmet, will be the defending champion at Baltimore and thus was exempt from the qualifying round.

Outmet, Sweetser and Johnston are all former amateur champions and they will be joined at Baltimore by four others, Chick Evans, Max Marston, Chandler Egan and Jesse Guifford, all of whom passed their sectional qualifying tests.

District play, in fact, developed few surprises as almost all the veterans made the grade. Among the qualifiers, for instance, were Johnny Goodman, Frank Delp, Lawson Little, Roland Mackenzie, Johnny Lehman, George Dawson, Johnny Fletcher, intercollegiate champion from Cincinnati's Civil College, Geo-

MANION AND SPICER QUALIFY FOR TITLE MEET

Eddie Held Scores 156 to Qualify for National Tourney
GARDEN CITY, N. J., Aug. 17. DDDIE HELD, former St. Louisan, now of New York, qualified for the national amateur golf championship tournament here yesterday when he scored 156, with rounds of 77 and 79.

Charles Mayo and Max Kaesche were co-medallists in the competition over the Cherry Valley course with 157½.

By James M. Gould.
Shooting scores of 148 and 149, respectively, for 38 holes of medal play, Emmett Spicer Jr. of Memphis and Jimmy Manion of Normandie yesterday qualified for the National Amateur tournament which is to be played at Baltimore, Md., Sept. 12-17. Spicer and Manion were low scorers over the Normandie course in a field which originally was seven, but was later reduced to four by Richard T. Toney of Osgo, was prevented by sickness from starting play and, after they had given their morning cards, a careful look, Edward W. Salomon Jr. of Memphis and Alanson Brown of Baltimore decided to withdraw.

This left a field of four and the two who failed to qualify were Sid Salomon Jr. of Westwood and Chastain Harris of Memphis. Harris had a card of 152 and Salomon's showed 156 strokes.

Both Spicer and Manion played excellent golf. The Memphis star had to battle Manion from the start and his two-stroke margin was compiled by a birdie two on the home hole in the afternoon. Even on the first nine in the morning, Spicer came in with a 38 to Manion's 39 and, at the end of the 18, led with a score of 71, one under par, to Manion's 74, two over.

Manion picked up two of these strokes on the first afternoon nine and, finally on the thirty-second hole of play, evened the count. On the thirty-third, Spicer went a stroke ahead again, but Manion got it back on No. 34. They halved the long par-five No. 35 and were all even when they teed off on the final hole.

Manion, with the honor, was short of the green on his drive, but Spicer was nicely on about seven feet from the pin. Manion's drive, Spicer came in with a 38 to Manion's 39 and, at the end of the 18, led with a score of 71, one under par, to Manion's 74, two over.

Several Pairs of "Clean-Up" Hitters Are Eligible for Ruth's All-America

Klein and Hurst, Ott and Terry, Manush and Cronin All Own Excellent Records.

As on any well-chosen major league team, so on Babe Ruth's All-America, two of the most important places in the batting order to be filled are the "clean-up" positions—the men who bat in third and fourth place, the drivers-in, theoretically, of most of the runs. There are almost as many outstanding candidates for these positions in this contest as there are big league teams. Naturally, the best way to judge of the fitness of these "clean-up" men is to note from the latest records the number of runs batted in by the potential candidates for Ruth's consideration.

Taking them by pairs and by teams according to the standings figures available show the following details in run-manufacture:

The Heaviest Hitters.
In the American League, the clean-up pairs of the eight teams are led by Ruth and Gehrig of the Yankees with 216 runs driven in; then come Marquess and Cronin, Senators, 178; Cochrane and Simmons, Athletics, 178; Averill and Vosmik, Indians, 165; Stone and Webb, Tigers, 148; Campbell and Goslin, Browns, 144; Johnson and Jolley, Red Sox, 137; and Blue and Appling, White Sox, 84. It can be seen how closely the standings of the clubs follow the proficiency of their clean-up pairs in driving in runs.

The National League figures reveal the following details: The Phils' great pair, Klein and Hurst, lead with 216; next are Ott and Terry, Giants, 164; O'Doul and Williams, Dodgers, 161; and then follow Hendrick and Herman-Lombard of the Reds, 161; Frisch and Bottomley-Collins of the Cards, 149; Berger and Moore-Schulmerick of the Braves, 134; with the Cub and present press-parade pair, Felsch and Baker, 133. It is only fair to observe, however, that several changes have been made in the batting orders of these two last-named teams which make the figures "out of order," actually, for consideration. And, the Cubs are leading the league, which, after all, appears to be the main thing.

What followed should have happened in the first round. Dempsey stepped out carefully this time, measured his man and then, with a school hand, cleaned up his foe decisively in 17 seconds. He could have done the same thing in the opening period, had he fought carefully.

The Indiana Way.
RECOGNIZING the futility of enforcing prohibition against race track betting, Indiana and California are about to get in line by legalizing, and thereby profiting through pari-mutuel speculation on horse races.

Indiana's new racing bill, before the Governor for signature, California will vote on the return of racing on a local option basis at the November election. It is said the legalizing of the clean-up spots, make them candidates for the same duties on Babe Ruth's team. If they weren't hitting well, they wouldn't be hitting third and fourth, so their averages naturally make them candidates for the All-America.

Perhaps, these pairs, with their records, merit certainly as much credit and probably more, attention from the All-America contest, entrants than any other restricted sets of stars. For the simple but adequate reason that there are more player-candidates fitted for these batting-order positions than for any other spot in the lineup.

Post-Dispatch Contest Rules

THE contest is open to every one, except employees of the Post-Dispatch and their families.

Entries will close Aug. 31 at midnight and letters bearing postmark up to that time will be considered eligible.

The contestant naming the same players in the same positions and batting order as Babe Ruth's team is to be considered a duplicate. Ruth's picks, the one nearest will be considered the winner.

In addition to naming the players to conform to those chosen by Ruth, contestants must arrange them in the same batting order as Babe Ruth. The Babe has agreed to place his choices in the order in which he thinks they should go to the plate.

An explanatory letter of not more than 250 words must accompany the selections and will be passed upon by the judges. This is as important as selecting the players. Babe himself will write an explanation of his choices. In view of a tie, excellence of the compositions would determine the winner. (Write on one side of the paper only and make your selections on a separate sheet.)

CLERK OF HOUSE TO MAKE LOANS OF R. F. C. PUBLIC

Says Legislation to This Effect Is Mandatory—Decision Applies to Advances
Since July 21.

PREPARES 8-PAGE BRIEF ON POINT

Disagrees With Hoover on Issue—First Report of Fiscal Agency to Congress
Due This Week.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The clerk of the House is ready to make public the details of loans made by the Reconstruction Corporation
since July 21.

The corporation's first report on the loans is due to be submitted to Congress this week. South Tribune, House clerk, has written an eight-page brief giving his reasons for interpreting the relief law as making publicity mandatory.

Trimbles believes, as do Speaker
Carter and Representative Rainey, democratic leader, that he has no choice.

The publicity provision got the relief bill into a snarl that threatened to prevent adjournment. At the instance of Garner and Rainey, the measure included instructions that monthly reports of loans should be transmitted to the clerk of the House and the secretary of the Senate.

President Hoover summoned leaders of both parties to the White House to ask that the publicity phase be omitted. A statement from the executive mansion said that the President favored
"barest publicity to all Government activities," but that the then directors of the Relief Corporation "advised the President of the danger that would result to the credit structure if this publicity provision were insisted upon."

"The responsibility in the last analysis for whatever might happen must necessarily rest upon Congress," the statement said.

Garner Backed Publicity.
Carter renewed his fight for the provision. Rainey said it "must be included or there will be no relief bill." The completed law contained the phraseology, in outline
at least, demanded by Garner.

President Hoover then said in a statement announcing he would sign the bill: "The possible destructive effect upon credit institutions
by the so-called publicity clause has been neutralized by the declaration of Senate leaders of all parties that this provision is not to be retroactive and that the required monthly reports of future transactions are of confidential nature and must be so held by the clerk of the Senate and House of Representatives unless otherwise ordered by the Congress when in session."

Trimbles' brief says that many reports submitted to him are made public, such as those of campaign expenditures. It concludes that the publicity clause is not retroactive,
but that any interpretation of the language in view of the intent of Congress is that the loans must be made public.

$1,000,000 Loan to Louisiana.
The Reconstruction Finance Corporation yesterday voted a destitution relief loan of $1,000,000 to Louisiana. It is to be used in 10 of the larger parishes for relief purposes.

The corporation's announcement of the data presented by Gov.
Allen indicated his funds had been depleted by floods, drought and excessive highway and public works programs. The loan will be administered by the Unemployment Relief Committee of Louisiana. The Louisiana relief program, the announcement said, would be one of work relief.

ITALY DROPS BATTLESHIPS, REDUCES NAVY 130,000 TONS

Will Retire Last Two Dreadnoughts in Fleet,
Also 9 Heavy and 12 Light Cruisers, 25 Destroyers.

By the Associated Press.
ROME, Aug. 17.—Italy will retire about 130,000 tons of fighting ships beginning Aug. 25 as a result of an economy move and reorganization of the fleet.

The tonnage will include two battleships, three heavy cruisers, nine light cruisers, 25 destroyers and 12 submarines, all reasonably old but still within the age limit.
The ships will be stripped of their crews but not immediately scrapped and will serve for hargaining when the World Disarm-ment Conference resumes its discussions at Geneva in the fall.

The battleship is done so far as Italy is concerned. Although the navy is far below the total of 170-000 tons in battleships allowed under the Washington treaty, Italy disregarded the right to build this type of ship, turning attention instead to heavy and light cruisers.
The Duilio and the Andrea Doria
are the last battleships of the fleet.
The battleships are the Andrea Doria, 22,700 tons, and her sister ship, the Duilio. These were rushed to completion in 1915 when Italy entered the World War. The heavy cruisers include the San

Marco, San Giorgio and the Pisa, averaging 10,000 tons. They are more than 20 years old. Among the light cruisers are four old German cruisers and one which formerly was in the Austrian navy.
The entire Italian navy recently completed the most extensive ma-nuvers held since the end of the war. They were designed to test the practicability of bringing transports from the Mediterranean colonies through an enemy line.

It was demonstrated that this could be done, but only at great cost. The "enemy" fleet sank a number of transports and supply vessels along with several of the convoy ships. During the maneuvers, the Andrea Doria was flagship of one of the fleets.
This drill came shortly after the adjournment of the World Disarm-ment Conference at which the Italian delegation submitted a sweeping program for limiting land and sea arms. The plan struck at the German "pocket battleship," the 23,000-ton French cruiser and the battle fleets of Great Britain and the United States. It would bring all the navies of the world down to Italy's own standard of 10,000-ton cruisers.

GIRL TOURISTS REACH MOSCOW BY FREIGHT

Two Young Women From Atlanta, Ga., Tell of Experiences With Auto in Russia.

By the Associated Press.
MOSCOW, Aug. 17.—Alva Christenson and Mary L. Degive, two girls from Atlanta, Ga., climbed stiffly off a freight car in the railroad yard early today at the end of an adventurous journey from New York.

They had motored across Europe,
intending to make an automobile
tour of Russia, but they encountered unmountable difficulties
after penetrating only 200 miles of Russian territory, and had to make the last part of the trip with their car by freight train.

For four days they lived on a flat car with their machine as the train puffed slowly to Moscow.
They prepared their meals from their own food supply, using a portable oil stove and sleeping in the automobile. Their first request when they reached here was for a hotel room with a bath.

The Beginning of Trouble.
They reached Cherbourg on July 4 and had no trouble until they reached the Polish-Russian frontier on Aug. 8. Then they crossed the small strip of territory which constitutes a sort of no-man's land between the two countries. A Polish officer conducted them to the other side, where they were met by Soviet guards and escorted to Minsk.

They pushed on alone that night,
but reached Borisov too late to buy gasoline. They slept that night in a garage.

Early next morning they started over a road made almost impossible by repairing and heavy rains.
The car bogged down in a small stream which they had tried to ford when they found the bridge washed out. It took the combined efforts of most of the men, women and children from a nearby village to drag them out, but a few miles farther on they were stopped again
by a flat tire.

And So On to Moscow.
Worn and discouraged, they re-packed it and pressed on, only to get stuck in the mud a short distance farther on. There was a downpour of rain, but they had to sleep that night in their car which by this time had three torn fenders,
a split running board, and a fan belt
so caked with mud that it would not turn.

Finally they helped them out again
the next morning and they made their way to Orca, between Minsk and Smolensk, where to their delight they discovered a family of former Chicagoans working in the local slaughter house. They slept in the slaughter house workers barracks and next morning, with the aid of the Americans, arranged to ship their car to Moscow, climbing aboard the train with it at Orca.

The girls studied Russian for a month before they left New York, but found their knowledge of the language inadequate for their needs. They expect to find an interpreter here and then to drive on as far as the Volga if the roads are suitable.

Boy Traveler Home From Pisa.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—Hartley de Gerald, 12 years old, returned yesterday from a trip to the Fiji Islands, bringing a mummified cannibal's head as a present for his mother, Mrs. John de Gerald, wife of a banker. He made the trip alone. Last year he visited the Tukon alone and next year he plans to go unaccompanied to the Belgian Coast.

STIMSON VIEW OF PEACE PACT ATTACKED BY WILLIAMSTOWN

One Speaker Declares Kellogg-Briand Treaty Still Is in Process of Evolution.

By the Associated Press.
WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug.
17.—Secretary of State Stimson's interpretation of the Kellogg-Briand peace treaty was attacked at the Institute of Politics last night.

Dr. Roy Hidenichi Akagi, exchange lecturer on Japanese affairs at Columbia University, said Stimson had failed to recognize that the pact was "in process of evolution" and contended that "to give it an all-embracing interpretation at this stage of its evolution is like stretching a rubber balloon
to an unreasonable limit."

He listed three requirements he said must be met before the Stimson view of the treaty could be justified: "Renunciation of the boycott as part of the pact; implementation through a provision for consultation in the event of war; harmonization of peace with the covenant of the League."

T. Z. Koo, vice-chairman of the World Student Christian Federa-
the Stimson doctrine as "disappointment mixed with eagerness to believe."

"The American policy seems to be the Chinese," he said, "to be chiefly composed of words having little effect on the hard realities of the actual situation."

SPAIN MOVES TO CONFISCATE PROPERTY OF MONARCHISTS

Premier to Present Decree to Assembly Today; Aftermath of Latest Rebellion.

By the Associated Press.
MADRID, Aug. 17.—The Spanish National Assembly prepared today to act on a decree confiscating the property of monarchists implicated in last Wednesday's rebellion.

The decree, which provides swift and drastic confiscation of property of the monarchists, was expected to be presented some time today to the Assembly by the Premier. As it is drawn, the confiscated property would be turned over to the Government for "social purposes."

The Premier announced the decree was drawn in conformity with the Constitution, which specifies
all properties may be forcibly confiscated without indemnity on agreement of an absolute majority of the members of the Assembly.

Decrees removing the command of the Civil Guard from the War Ministry and placing it under the Ministry of Interior were published in the Official Gazette today if the general staff of the guard was suppressed.

MORE JAPANESE SAILORS ARE LANDED IN MANCHURIA

Renewed Guerrilla Activities Cause of Action, Tokyo Naval Office Announces.

By the Associated Press.
TOKYO, Aug. 17.—The Navy Office announced today that owing to renewed guerrilla activities in the neighborhood of Ningchow, Manchuria, a Japanese destroyer cruise
ing in nearby waters, had gone to Yingkow and landed sailors to reinforce the naval guard kept ashore since guerrilla attacks on Aug. 3.

A dispatch from Changchun said that passengers on a Mukden-Kirin train, who were captured by bandits yesterday, still were held captive at Chaoyangchun, 50 miles south of Kirin, on the Chinese-built Mukden-Hailun-Kirin railway. All the captives were thought to be Chinese.

A dispatch to the Rengo (Japanese) News Agency from Harbin today said the Manchukuo Foreign Office had protested to the Soviet Consulate-General at Mukden that Soviet Russia, having moved fresh troops to the border, was building semi-permanent barracks on Man-chukuo territory near Manchul.
The protest, which was sent on Aug. 15, demanded that the barracks be removed to the Soviet side, the correspondent said. He added there were growing indications that diplomatic relations between Manchukuo and Soviet Russia were becoming worse.

ATOMS SMASHED WHOLESALE, TOO MANY TO COUNT

German Experimenters Succeed on Scale Never Before Attained—Need New Measuring Devices.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Aug. 17.—Atom-smashing on a wholesale scale far beyond previous successes in this direction is reported by the German General Electric Co. The operation requires the discharge of the entire voltage of the big power plant here, and breaks up atoms
so extensively that new apparatus must be invented before the extent of the smashing can be measured.

This was disclosed by company officials, who announced that the experiments of its engineers, Fritz Lange and Arno Brasch, had been successful beyond the recent efforts of the Englishmen, Walton and Cockcroft.

The greatest difficulty was encountered in developing a vacuum tube capable of withstanding the terrible force. Alpha particles, to be shot at the atoms were produced in a vacuum discharging tube nearly eight feet long, while the velocity of the cathode rays was increased to a range of more than 30 feet in an amplifying tube.
The X-rays were so intense that they easily pierced a lead plate
nearly eight inches thick.

Following the suggestion of the American physicist, Coolidge, tubes were linked one behind the other,
whereupon 5,000,000 volts, charging and accelerating the particles to 1,000,000 volts, was released. It was said that atoms of lighter elements, like lithium, were demolished by the million.

The engineers have dismantled their apparatus and are now building another capable of generating 7,000,000 volts to smash heavier elements.

The disintegration of the atom long has been an objective of scientists, and previous experiments have resulted in the smashing of only a few. Scientists think vast masses must be smashed before they can utilize the discovery for practical purposes.

Much has been written about the immense energy that could be obtained if that in the atom were released, but the experiments thus far have developed nothing along that line.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

The name and address of the author must accompany every contribution, but on request will not be published. Letters not exceeding 300 words will receive preference.

In Defense of Italy.
 To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

YOUR correspondent from Geneva, A. B. E. Johnson, is known to be an enemy of Italy, and really this would make any difference and will not be any obstacle to Italy's progress. But I suppose the readers of your paper should not be deceived by his statements about Italy, which do not correspond to the truth.

A few days ago he was stating that conditions in Italy are getting worse every day and that the number of the unemployed is on the increase. The opposite is the truth, and logically so. Italy is an agricultural country, and therefore spring and summer months are the busy seasons, and unemployment is at its minimum.

In the article you published last Sunday, Mr. Johnson states that Italy is the reason of the failure of the disarmament conference. Mr. Johnson evidently forgets what the Italian Minister of Foreign Affairs declared in his opening speech and the definite propositions he made. He forgets that Italy was the first nation to accept with no reservations President Hoover's definite proposition toward disarmament; he forgets that Minister Balbo, the Italian spokesman at the closing of the conference for the limitation of armaments, lamented that the progress which had been made was indeed too small to declare the conference a success. The text of his speech has not been printed in the St. Louis papers, but Mr. Johnson no doubt heard it or saw it in print at Geneva.

How can anyone say that Italy stands in the way of disarmament? We are not pacifists, as we are practical, and we do not think war will be banned on the strength of pacifist talk, but we try to decrease the possibility of war through drastic disarmament and through adoption of justice and right between the nations.

ALBERTO ALFANI,
 Royal Italian Acting Consul.

Tribute to the Humane Society.
 To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

WE have had two occasions in our neighborhood recently to call on the Humane Society. I am wondering if the public realizes and appreciates the good work this society does. Of course, anyone who is normal wishes animals to be well treated, but the sympathy, courtesy and consideration that the personnel of this organization bring into their work goes far beyond just care to animals. With their practical efficiency, they actually relieve the distress of the humane, especially those who love animals and do not like them to suffer.

READER.

Dickens and Hoover.

TO the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
 MAY I congratulate you on the editorial, "A Word for Dickens," which appeared Aug. 4? It was refreshing to read such an editorial in a great metropolitan paper like the Post-Dispatch, for, although the world is at present enjoying a miniature Dickens revival, the fact remains that to many this great author is almost unknown.

At the same time, I should like to congratulate you on your more recent editorial, "Mr. Hoover's Acceptance," which appeared Aug. 4. It was refreshing to read such an editorial in a great metropolitan paper like the Post-Dispatch, for, although the world is at present enjoying a miniature Dickens revival, the fact remains that to many this great author is almost unknown.

All that Dickens ever wrote was warm and sympathetic—the main impression one received from Hoover's talk was one of cold aloofness. The depression was waved aside with a polite gesture, while the tragic state of the unemployed breadwinner seemingly did not penetrate the walls of Constitution Hall. As a machine capable of being put to work, he was considered, and regret was expressed that he was not in motion—with that his case was dismissed.

Poor old Bob Cratchit. To the crossing sweep, smiling Trotty Veck, genial Capt. Cuttle and good, genuine Mr. Peggoty would get nothing from Mr. Hoover's speech—very probably they would not even know who he was. As a stand-patter, Herbert Hoover would perhaps be admired by conservative and cold Mr. Dumbey, who could continue to vote his straight Republican ticket. However, it is not for Mr. Dumbey that Charles Dickens is best remembered.

EDWARD FRANCIS RINEY,
 Chicago.

We Get a Gooding.

TO the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
 THREE poor old Post-Dispatch! Still in the same old rut? Why don't you get regular?

Last night by the directness and soundness of President Hoover's speech of acceptance, the poor old P.-D. in desperation has to go back to the Stone Age and look for records to prove that the President has changed his mind.

Grow up! The mere fact that you are bitterly opposed to Herbert Hoover is a boost for him. If your opposition grows much worse, you'll chase another million doubtful votes into the Republican column.

JOHN A. RYAN,

AT GRIPS WITH THE TRUCK PROBLEM

It has taken time for the states to come to grips with the truck problem. Following legislative measures in Texas and others of the states, West Virginia has gone so far as to refuse to license trucks which cannot render a peculiar service.

Public defense of this summary action is made by Harold P. Tompkins, member of the State Road Commission in charge of motor vehicles. Mr. Tompkins says there are many interests involved in the truck problem, all of which must be given due consideration. There is first the public cost. The public pays for the highways, and it should not be asked to provide facilities which merely duplicate the service of the railroads. To do so, he argues, is only to destroy the railroads, to which the public looks for services that cannot be duplicated by any other facility, as well as to impose upon the public the expense of maintaining highways strong enough to support heavy tonnage.

He quotes the United States Bureau of Standards in showing what it means to the highway to carry heavy loads. Ninety-five per cent of highway traffic is made up of lighter vehicles. Only 5 per cent of it is commercial. Yet for that 5 per cent the strength of the highways must be doubled. For only 1 per cent of it, that is, for loads up to 15 tons, many of the highways must be from three to five times as strong. Attempts to regulate the weight of loads, such as those made by the legislatures of Illinois, Missouri, Kansas and other states, do not altogether spare the highways from the pounding inflicted upon them by commercial traffic. The first stretch of concrete highway built in Missouri, that between St. Louis and St. Charles, has been so hammered by trucks that parts of it are constantly being renewed.

In Mr. Tompkins' opinion it is unquestionable that the trucks render a service. The problem as he sees it is to limit the expense to the people in maintaining the highways to what that service is worth. The trucks are legion. They have come like an irruption in almost every part of the United States. They have almost destroyed the less-than-carload lot service of the railroads, and they are fast invading the out-of-town service of the railroads. They roll in and out of every city and town. They imperil the safety of all other traffic upon the highways. Only until recently has their tonnage been limited by any of the states, and the problem of making them pay their due share of taxes is only partially solved anywhere.

Meanwhile the railroads, which bear an enormous burden of taxes, and which provide their own rights of way, clamor for justice. Meeting in Washington in July, the Association of Railway Executives appealed to Mr. Hoover for relief from what they justly term an inequitable situation. In a public statement, the executives said:

Since 1921 the Federal and state governments have spent more than 13 billion dollars for highways. Upon these highways, which largely parallel the railroads, there are being operated more than 25,000,000 private automobiles, approximately 3,500,000 freight trucks and some 96,000 passenger-carrying buses. All this development has come about largely within the last 10 years.

The railroads do not expect or seek favors from the Government, but they do ask equality of treatment with all other agencies of transportation.

It is inevitable that Congress shall exercise control over interstate traffic upon the highways, a subject that was debated from debate in the last session only by the financial crisis. That is as far as Congress can go. Meanwhile, the states are fast moving into this troubled field. It is a question how far the people either can or care to subsidize such a service as the trucks render. Some part of what they do is unquestionably indispensable, but the great volume of truck traffic is nothing like so indispensable as the railroads. This is the simple truth, and the country is beginning to realize it.

Tribute to the Humane Society.
 To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

WE have had two occasions in our neighborhood recently to call on the Humane Society. I am wondering if the public realizes and appreciates the good work this society does. Of course, anyone who is normal wishes animals to be well treated, but the sympathy, courtesy and consideration that the personnel of this organization bring into their work goes far beyond just care to animals. With their practical efficiency, they actually relieve the distress of the humane, especially those who love animals and do not like them to suffer.

READER.

Dickens and Hoover.

TO the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
 MAY I congratulate you on the editorial, "A Word for Dickens," which appeared Aug. 4? It was refreshing to read such an editorial in a great metropolitan paper like the Post-Dispatch, for, although the world is at present enjoying a miniature Dickens revival, the fact remains that to many this great author is almost unknown.

At the same time, I should like to congratulate you on your more recent editorial, "Mr. Hoover's Acceptance," which appeared Aug. 4. It was refreshing to read such an editorial in a great metropolitan paper like the Post-Dispatch, for, although the world is at present enjoying a miniature Dickens revival, the fact remains that to many this great author is almost unknown.

All that Dickens ever wrote was warm and sympathetic—the main impression one received from Hoover's talk was one of cold aloofness. The depression was waved aside with a polite gesture, while the tragic state of the unemployed breadwinner seemingly did not penetrate the walls of Constitution Hall. As a machine capable of being put to work, he was considered, and regret was expressed that he was not in motion—with that his case was dismissed.

Poor old Bob Cratchit. To the crossing sweep, smiling Trotty Veck, genial Capt. Cuttle and good, genuine Mr. Peggoty would get nothing from Mr. Hoover's speech—very probably they would not even know who he was. As a stand-patter, Herbert Hoover would perhaps be admired by conservative and cold Mr. Dumbey, who could continue to vote his straight Republican ticket. However, it is not for Mr. Dumbey that Charles Dickens is best remembered.

EDWARD FRANCIS RINEY,
 Chicago.

We Get a Gooding.

TO the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
 THREE poor old Post-Dispatch! Still in the same old rut? Why don't you get regular?

Last night by the directness and soundness of President Hoover's speech of acceptance, the poor old P.-D. in desperation has to go back to the Stone Age and look for records to prove that the President has changed his mind.

Grow up! The mere fact that you are bitterly opposed to Herbert Hoover is a boost for him. If your opposition grows much worse, you'll chase another million doubtful votes into the Republican column.

JOHN A. RYAN,

there. We shudder to think what a strain on weak hearts a baseball world series would be if embroidered in the artistic style of the Golden State.

THE JOBLESS-LIBERTY CONVENTIONS

Overly optimistic estimates of attendance caused the controversies and confusion that preceded the opening of the Jobless and Liberty party conventions, which convened today at Creve Coeur race track, as twin assemblages instead of the expected joint meeting. When Father Cox last March 9 first announced plans for the convention, he said a nation-wide survey showed that 1,000,000 delegates would attend the gathering here. As late as July 27, he repeated that prediction. It was a staggering number, but Father Cox had built a reputation as organizer and leader when he took more than 10,000 unemployed men on an orderly expedition to Washington last winter, and a vast outpouring was expected here. A crowd even approaching this size would have overwhelmed St. Louis, hence the refusal of permission to gather within the city.

As recently as last week, Father Cox contended that 200,000 "blue shirts" would attend the meeting. The convention manager in charge set the number at 50,000, a figure he later reduced to 25,000. Even the smaller number would have overtaxed the sanitary facilities at the race course, so health authorities intervened with an ultimatum as to water supply and sewage disposal. When it became apparent Monday that not more than 3500 persons would be camped at the Creve Coeur grounds, the requirements became unnecessary and were accordingly withdrawn.

Had the attendance figure been more conservatively estimated, there would have been no question as to St. Louis' welcome to the convention. Facilities could have been arranged within the city on any of the lots customarily used by circuses and carnivals, which have in past accommodated camp meetings of sizable proportions. The caliber of the delegates and their discipline remove all questions that the vague preliminary announcements had aroused as to the character of the meeting. Minor political parties in past have often shown themselves ahead of their time, with platform planks that later were adopted by the major groups and left their impress upon the country's history. St. Louis is glad to receive the redoubtable Father Cox, the picturesque "Coin" Harvey and their followers. It will watch with interest their deliberations on the nation's problems.

PROSPERITY WITH A KICK

Missourians will be peculiarly pleased to know that the mule is also going up in price, and while his true value may never be fully appreciated, the probability that he was to be vanquished by the machine, which speculation once dilled with, may be cheerfully tossed on the junk heap. As a matter of fact, mules of the nobler strain—the Missouri mule, if we must identify him—blue-blinded mules, are pretty scarce. A team of them now brings as much as $400 to the seller, and to the buyer they bring the delectable fruits of victory. The Missouri mule, you know—you do know because we're telling you—cannot be beaten. In terrain where the smoothest tractor gaspingly folds up, the Missouri mule grinds his teeth and forges through. And when the refractory land has been planted and the demands of cultivation adequately met, and the harvest moon is shining in the skies, why, then, as holy writ promises, the farmer-owner of the Missouri mule reaps as he has sown. And with the Missouri mule gracefully climbing the price ladder, we have, it seems to us, the happy augury of prosperity with a kick.

"COIN" HARVEY, CRUSADER.

We have with us today a gallant old boy of 81. He has been a commissioned officer, by his own regular certifying, in all the economic wars since Bryan bore the banner of silver and salvation across the lean and hungry, yet somehow frivolous, '90s. He has never in his long career experienced the slightest twinge of doubt. Always he has known precisely what our trouble was and precisely how to cure it. That is his happy eminence in the present bewildering world which has the other best minds running around in circles. Tonight he will tell his followers all about it.

William Hope is the name in the family Bible, but to the world he is and ever will be "Coin" Harvey. Bryan was the evangel of silver; but Harvey wrote his gospel, wrote it with a simplicity and searching detail comparable to the stylings of the Apostles, that made believers of many who cynically picked up the paper-bound volume to scoff. Later he turned from the occult science of finance to ribbon the uncharted Southwest with the Ozark trails, and in that mission he preached the doctrine of dirt roads with the fervor of a circuit-rider. Then messages came forth from Monte Ne, Ark., inviting the world to that hitherto unused Naples in phrase and figure of rich, alluring hospitality.

And here he is in bowed and faltering 1932, nominally candidate for President of the Liberty party, but actually an intellectual Moses to lead us out of the wilderness, and cocksure that he knows how to do it. He is of the stuff of crusaders, intolerant of dissent, quite undismayed by the lost causes he has served, burning with righteous zeal for the latest adventure and sustained by an armor of certainty no argumentative bullet can pierce.

Welcome to the city.

DOUBLE O AND U

A Canadian paper detects flaws in Mr. Hoover's pronouncement, citing as horrible examples constitution, institution and revenue. The "U," it seems, is not chiseled out in its labored purity. Mr. Hoover preferring, like the majority of us, to glide smoothly over the bridge of the double "O." And in this preference Mr. Hoover and the majority are right.

No great effort, confessedly, is required to give "u" its undulating effect in such a word as revenue, but nobody is in doubt when a speaker pronounces constitution as if spelled constitution, and everybody knows that when a person stops in the middle of it and drives down out of sight presently to appear spluttering and blowing, with a "u" perched on the tip of his tongue and constitut-yew-shun at last wheeling into the void—everybody knows he has witnessed a stilted, pedantic, affected exhibition.

The diphthong certainly has its honorable place in phonology, and while it may not have been designed originally to nary the vowel's function, custom has drafted it occasionally to serve as such a substitute. The reasons are elegant and obvious: ease and euphony.

One more petition might, perhaps, be added to the litany: From the unyielding, never-relaxing purist, good Lord deliver us!

AT THE LITTLE END OF THE HORN!

The I. C. C. Lectures Two Railroads

Manner in which Rock Island and Frisco bought stock in other lines is severely criticized by I. C. C., but no action is taken against them; merely read them a lecture, unjustified in law, one commissioner says; Rock Island secrecy and Frisco board's "casual way" of allowing road's business to be transacted are assailed in report.

From Barron's Financial Weekly.

THAT the Interstate Commerce Commission is assuming a more liberal attitude toward the railroads under present conditions was reflected by its action in discontinuing the self-instituted inquiry into the purchase of St. Louis-San Francisco Railway stock by the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific and of stock in the Gulf, Mobile & Northern by the Frisco.

Although the commission was unusually critical of the manner in which these transactions were handled, its report simply amounted to a discussion and criticism without taking affirmative action.

"This proceeding shows the easy manner in which the boards of directors of these railroads bore their responsibilities as such," the commission observed. "It is noteworthy that the chairman of the Executive Committee failed to consult at least one member who was particularly qualified by experience as well as by mature study of transportation questions to pass upon the wisdom of the proposed purchase" of the Frisco stock by the Rock Island.

"Questions of large financial importance to the properties and to the stockholders to whom they stood in a fiduciary relation were decided by a few of the members in casual conversations; large sums were expended on elaborate projects which, as a board, they had not considered, and which, on the transactions reported to them later, they readily ratified."

Ordinarily, such expressions of disapproval may have been accompanied by some measures. It is recognized, however, that in going so in this case, the commission would have been treading upon uncertain ground. Commissioner Farrell expressed the view that the record did not show a violation of any law which it is the commission's duty to enforce. Commissioner Tate said they were simply "reading a lecture" for which there was no justification in law.

The fact that the Frisco and the Rock Island are in parallel and competing lines, but co-extensive with each other, and the long-standing alliance between these carriers, undoubtedly was considered in minimizing the commission's action. The usual procedure in such instances would be to revoke authorization permitting interlocking directorates, such as that held by Edward N. Brown.

Majority report excerpt follows: "While in the nature of things it is necessary that the business of corporations be delegated to boards and even to individuals, it is essential that all reasonable effort be made to preserve the representation of the stockholders to the full extent required by the regulations adopted by them."

"It is hardly necessary to refer to the advantages of consideration of proposed actions at a representative meeting which shall give opportunity for interchange of views and discussion, lessening the possibility of undue personal influence, misunderstanding and misrepresentation."

"We are unable to attach material weight to any theory that danger of premature disclosure of plans can justify failure to apprise all of the members of an executive committee of proposed transactions having an important bearing upon the policy of a railroad company as well as upon its finances; or that such danger is sufficient reason for dispensing with a committee meeting. Each member of the committee should be considered worthy of trust or should not be retained in his position."

The report declared, "The casual way in which the Frisco board allowed the business of the corporation to be conducted is especially striking."

The stock acquired consisted of 25,000 shares in each instance. The Gulf, Mobile & Northern stock was purchased through Speyer & Co. of New York on the open market between Nov. 31, 1929, and April 22, 1930, at a total cost, including commission, of $951,021.50, an average cost of about $38.04 a share. The purchases were made upon the verbal request of Edward N. Brown, chairman of the board of directors and of the Executive Committee of the Frisco, who also is chairman of the Executive Committee of the Rock Island. There was no written correspondence concerning these transactions until Dec. 5, 1930, when Speyer & Co. made a written report of the purchases.

As to the purchase of Frisco stock by the Rock Island, Mr. Brown made verbal arrangements with Speyer & Co. Oct. 9, 1930, for the purchase of 25,000 shares, which cost $1,199,571.45, an average cost of about $47.98 a share, including commission.

Mr. Brown testified in the hearings that a transaction such as this purchase, in order to be successful, must be conducted with the knowledge of as few people as possible. Accordingly, he said, he decided not to bring the matter up in the meeting of the Executive Committee or the board of directors of the Rock Island. Before taking action, he conferred with a majority of the members of the Executive Committee and a member of the Finance Committee, and secured their approval, he said.

He had no personal interest in either of the purchases which were the subject of the inquiry, said Mr. Brown. Asked under cross-examination why, as to the Rock Island purchase, the business was conducted through correspondence, while in the case of the Frisco purchase of Gulf, Mobile & Northern stock written communication was avoided, Mr. Brown explained that the Rock Island purchase occurred a year or two later than the other and conditions were different; that he did not consider he had the same status with the Rock Island as with the Frisco and that opportunity for privacy was not so great in handling the Rock Island purchase. There was considerable discussion of the transactions at the meeting of the Rock Island board, Dec. 10, 1930, and no outspoken opposition, and the result was unanimous approval of the purchases, he said.

The commission declared that disclosure in this proceeding being to public attention a practice of conducting the business of a railroad that merits condemnation.

In Behalf of Norman Thomas

Docia Karel in the Springfield (Mo.) Leader

QUOTING the sage, Arthur Brisbane, "There is a Borah mystery and it is about politics. The able Senator from Idaho has made his choice for President and will not tell the name of his choice. It is not Hoover, not Roosevelt and not Upshaw."

Of course it is not Thomas, Socialists candidate, although Thomas . . . is a tremendously intelligent and absolutely honest. . . . Why "of course not Thomas"? It seems to me to support Thomas might be just the intelligent sort of thing an intelligent man like Borah could do this year with excellent grace. And I think that automatic, patronizing "of course" of all the conventional thinkers such as Brisbane—and including a lot of good Socialists and very likely even Thomas himself—is the chief handicap Thomas has.

The country this year is in a mood for change—a real change, a lift and a step forward. It is moved by a restless urge to do things about things; a real and insistent moving impulse, I think, to improve the way things are. And of course to trade Hoover for Roosevelt will be to bring about no change at all—any more than to re-elect Hoover. Either one will be to continue as is. But our America is so firmly conservative that its voters never would consider of doing any drastic, radical thing.

Thomas offers virtually an ideal candidate—a sane, safe, sound man, as even Brisbane says, "extremely intelligent and absolutely honest." Nobody need be afraid of him—nor of the nation under his leadership. Yet all the disturbed, thinking, intelligent people who believe Thomas would be a good man and who generally would be willing to vote for him, unite to damn him with the accepted phrase, "but of course he couldn't be elected." They're right, long as they feel that way. He never can win with his very followers assuming defeat.

Both are struggling to give the American voters some more of what they don't particularly want. And then there's Thomas, offering them what, in their present mood, they want most—that famed "new deal."

I honestly believe that if he and his supporters would organize and campaign with half the energy, enthusiasm and persistence of the two dominant parties, that they would find the voters amazingly responsive beyond their wildest expectation—even beyond their hope. And I believe that they could pile up for Thomas such a tremendous vote that if it didn't elect him (and it might do that!) at least it would startle the sleepy old parties into a new wakefulness; and open their eyes with a new awareness to the wish of the people for government more intelligent, and less expensive, and designed in business-like fashion to serve the people instead of being used merely as a sort of fraternal club for politicians.

And, of course, nobody has to be a Socialist—or even to believe in Socialism—to vote for Thomas. An honest belief in democracy would do quite well enough. But the stupid old habit of voting "Republican" or "Democratic" is so strong, as easy, so taken-for-granted, that few people even think of anything else.

We just say "of course" one doesn't support Thomas, and "of course" he can't be elected, and by saying it, we make it true.

$3,493,000 READY IN STATE SCHOOL FUND

Another $1,500,000 Available in March—Total Is Half of Allotment.

By the Associated Press.
 JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 17.—The State Department of Education announced today that $3,493,000 is available at the present time for distribution to Missouri public schools. The total minimum apportionment for the year under the school law passed by last legislature was $6,986,000, but only approximately 50 per cent of that amount now is available.

Of the amount of the apportionment, $2,992,536 is for rural aid, $4,964,432 for high school aid and $35,000 for buildings aid.

The amount received by various counties is based upon attendance quotas and teaching units.

At the time the new school law was passed, it was expected that the new graduated income tax schedule would provide ample fund to pay the minimum guarantee, but the following amounts were State revenues have fallen off sharply, due to depressed economic conditions and it now appears only half the full apportionment will be paid. One-third of the State's general revenue goes into the school fund.

Two payments are to be made on the apportionment. The first, which shall be paid immediately, represents one-third of the State's general revenue from July 1, 1931 to July 1, 1932.

The second payment will be made March 15, 1933, and will represent one-third of the general revenue from July 1, 1932 to March 1, 1933. The estimated amount for the March 15 payment is $1,500,000, which will bring to approximately $5,000,000 the amount to be given the schools this year. This is approximately 50 per cent of the apportionment.

Among those apportioned today: St. Louis city receives $555,534 and St. Louis County $250,005, of which $29,925 is for rural schools.

ELIZABETH COLLINS TO WED H. G. HAWKINS

Engagement to Yakima, (Wash.) Man Announced by Mr. and Mrs. Knox Tausig.

An engagement of interest to society is that of Miss Elizabeth Cummings Collins, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cummings Collins, and Henry Goodhart Hawkins Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Hawkins of Yakima, Wash., which is made known today by Miss Collins' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Knox Tausig, 4605 Maryland avenue, with whom she makes her home. The wedding will take place Thursday, Oct. 4, at Yakima.
Miss Collins is a member of a socially prominent St. Louis family. Her mother was the former Miss July Thomson, a Velled Prophet Queen and a noted belle. Her sister, Mrs. Tausig was a first special maid of honor at the Velled Prophet ball and another sister, Mrs. William E. Glogau, was also a Velled Prophet Queen. She is the granddaughter of the late William H. Thomson, former president of the Boatmen's Bank and one of the organizers of the Velled Prophet Association.
Miss Collins was graduated from Mary Institute and later spent some time in European travel. She made her debut several seasons ago and was a maid of honor at the Velled Prophet ball. She is a member of the Junior League. She returned this morning from a lengthy visit in the West with her cousin, Mrs. David Hawkins, formerly Miss Anne Cox, and Ensign Hawkins of Bremerton, Wash. The prospective bridegroom is a brother of Ensign Hawkins.
"CYRANO" COMPOSER IMPRESSED WITH MANY OPERA EQUIPMENT
Says No Other Stage in World Is So Adequate for Opera.
Samuel Pokras, the young Russian-German composer whose ambitious opera, "Cyrano de Bergerac," is to be presented by Municipal Opera Sunday night for the first time on the professional stage, thinks the Forest Park stage is better equipped to produce operas than any other place in the world.
"Ever since I was a child," said Pokras during a performance of "The Love Call," which he watched last night, "I have been associated with theaters in one capacity or another in all the big cities of Europe. Here in St. Louis I have wandered—and gotten lost, too—back stage in your Forest Park theater and have been amazed at the tremendous and perfect mechanical side of the project. On no other stage that I have seen can things be done on so magnificent and so perfect a scale."
"No artist, musician or author, could conceive a drama that could not be produced here. And no other theater has ever assembled such a complete symphonic orchestra, with a perfectly trained chorus capable of putting on, with but a few days' notice, any musical play ever written."
"It is an inspiration to work here, as I have been doing since my arrival, and the possibilities in my 'Cyrano' never dawned upon me until, in watching the performances of 'The Love Call' I began to appreciate the vast resources of Municipal Opera."
Poken was in St. Louis last spring under another name as a piano player in a vaudeville act which was seen at the Ambassador Theater. He took that position while times were hard and while he was waiting for something to be done with "Cyrano de Bergerac."

RED CROSS ESTIMATES 8,000,000 NEED CLOTHING

Statement of Requirements of Farm Board Cotton Based on Third of Reports.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Estimates thus far provided the Red Cross headquarters here place at 7,938,000 persons the number of those who will need cotton clothing during the next six months from the supply of Farm Board cotton placed at the disposal of the organization.
Only a little more than a third of the Red Cross chapters thus far have sent in estimates. The reporting chapters, 1349 out of the 3625, estimated that 1,127,431 families would need clothing. Of the chapters reporting, 1071 already were distributing new or used clothing. The estimates were made in response to a questionnaire sent out by Chairman John Barton Payne after the President's approval of the transfer of 500,000 bales of cotton to the Red Cross to provide cloth and wearing apparel for the needy.
The replies indicated the Eastern industrial centers were in greatest need of clothing. The 684 Eastern chapters reporting, estimated 4,584,719 persons in their jurisdictions would need clothes. The 545 Midwestern chapters made a 2,608,797 estimate; the 140 Pacific

WARNS POLICE 'PULL' WON'T WIN PROMOTION

President Remmers of Board Declares Politics Must Cut No Figure.

In a letter headed "Fair Warning," President Remmers of the Board of Police Commissioners today told members of the Police Department that the board would brook no interference from politicians in the promotion or transfer of members of the force.

"By trying to be courteous," he wrote in the letter, posted in all stations, "I have been harassed by members of the department, their friends and relatives, highly recommending themselves, or their friends or relatives, for promotions or transfers, or what not."

A large percentage of the glowing recommendations received produced nothing but waste of time as the records and ability of the officers do not justify promotion.

"Within the last few years the St. Louis Police Department, as the result of patient and courageous effort, has been so organized and equipped that it is generally considered one of the finest and cleanest in the United States.

"Political and personal favoritism did not enter into this splendid result. Yet in spite of this established record some political-inclined persons, with more effort than civic pride in the reputation of the department, have suggested promotions be made upon party lines and that promotions upon merit in their opinion was just an impracticable theory."

"I take full responsibility for the recent promotions that have been made. The board and the chief are proud of the men we were given an opportunity to reward for their loyalty, intelligence and outstanding service.

"So long as I am president of the board that policy as a basis for promotion will not be changed.

"Every member of the department who wishes to call the board's attention to his qualifications for promotion, or desires for good reason a transfer or assignment, may truly write the board, any member thereof, or the chief, stating facts to support his request. All such communications will be given earnest consideration.

"We will continue to be pleased to receive letters from citizens, voluntarily written, calling our attention to any meritorious service performed by any member of the department."

GOVERNOR DUE TO DECIDE SOON ON CITY PLEA FOR U. S. FUNDS

Acting Mayor Neum A. S. Funds on $2,000,000 Relief Request.

Gov. Caulfield is expected to reach a decision within a few days as to whether to apply for Federal unemployment funds for St. Louis, but Acting Mayor Neum today went ahead with his announced intention of writing him to urge haste.

For several weeks the Governor has been considering the request of St. Louis that he apply for $2,000,000 in Federal money, and yesterday Neum said he planned to bring the matter again to his attention.

Gov. Caulfield said then that he would decide as soon as he received detailed information on the city's needs, now being compiled by Prof. Walter Burr of the University of Missouri, who is secretary of the Missouri Committee for Unemployment Relief. Burr's report will be given to the Governor Saturday.

Neum, pointing out that relief agencies now have sufficient funds to enable them to carry on for only about 10 days more, in his letter to the Governor asked for his views on the advance of Federal money.

"The reason I am so anxious about it," he wrote, "is that we have only a few days in which to act and I am sure anything you do in regard to this matter will be very much appreciated by the people of our good city."

STATE BUYS VIRGINIA QUAIL

By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 17.—Commissioner John H. Ross of the Missouri Game and Fish Department today announced that the department had contracted for 1000 Virginia quail to be used as brood stock. The purchase is Missouri's largest order of quail since 1927, when 8000 Mexican quail were imported.

The quail are to be delivered to the Game and Fish Department next February. They were purchased at $5.50 a pair. Some will be placed on game farms and others on areas in which a shortage of brood stock has been reported.

Lux Toilet Soap

SUCH UNRIVALED WHITENESS

"I'm 28"
—Estelle Taylor

"Years have little to do with charm," says this beautiful screen star. "The important thing is to keep one's complexion youthful. Lux Toilet Soap."

Juliette Compton and Vivienne Osborne use it, too—regularly! "It keeps skin satin-smooth," they say enthusiastically.

LATE STOCK RALLY CUTS LOSSES OF 2 TO 8 POINTS

Sharp Sell Off in Afternoon
Carries Many Issues Off Above Amounts—Heavy Tone Near Close.

Stock Price Trend.
Number of advances, 218 497
Number of declines, 348 132
Stocks unchanged, 138 120
Total issues traded, 704 740

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—The stock market backed and filled nervously today. A sharp sell-off in the early afternoon carried many issues off about 2 to 8 points, but the losses were roughly cut in a last-hour rally. The late half had a heavy tone. The turnover was about 8,000,000 shares.

Efforts to attract a following on the upside in the utilities and motion picture in the morning failed, although a number of issues were put up about 1 to 3 temporarily. A flurry of buying following American Telephone's regular $2.25 quarterly dividend announcement was short-lived, and American Sugar's regular payment of 50 cents also had evidently been anticipated.

American Telephone dropped nearly 6 points, as the dividend brought more profit-taking than fresh buying, and closed 40 cents. Westinghouse rose 2 points to a new 1932 high, reacted 5 from the top, and rallied to close unchanged. A loss recovered about half of a loss of nearly 3. Miscellaneous issues finishing about 2 to 3 lower included United States Steel, Santa Fe, Johns Manville, Eastman and Union Pacific. Loews rose more than 1 and closed up 1/2.

Foreign exchanges were marked by slight firmness of the principal continental gold currencies against the dollar, but sterling was again weak, joining nearly a cent, with cables ruling at $2.47 1/2. Scandinavians were carried down with sterling. The Japanese yen recovered 1/4 of a cent.

In commodities, cotton closed 5 to 10 cents a barrel lower. Wheat futures at Chicago finished 1/2 to 3/4 of a cent lower. The Government weather report was less unfavorable than expected. Corn was barely steady, off 1/4 to 3/4 of a cent.

A. T. & T. Dividend.
Inasmuch as the list as a whole was halted as it approached the upper resistance levels of last week in the previous yesterday, traders were inclined to pursue a somewhat more cautious attitude for a time, pending more decisive indications that the rally was to be resumed. The rather erratic swings in the list, both yesterday and today, also tended to make for caution. Foreign buying, as said by brokers with foreign connections to have subsided during the past few days, although a little continued to trickle in, coming even from such far lands as India. On the other hand, there has been no rush on the part of foreigners to take profits.

American Telephone's regular dividend had been rather confidently forecast in recent quarters, so that it had been fairly well discounted in advance. Bullish efforts in the stock market received little support from midweek business statistics. The bidding up of the Motion Picture stocks was based on the fact that theater attendance usually picks up sharply in the autumn, and in recent months, the companies have drastically reduced their expenses. The weekly electric power production figures were about a standard. While showing a slight decline from the previous week, the degree of reduction from last year remained unchanged at 13.1 per cent.

Call money renewed at 2 per cent. While encouraging signs of prospective business improvement are not lacking, steel ingot production has not been above 10 per cent of the country's capacity. "Iron Age" said today. This is unchanged from last week's rate. The petroleum statistics for last week indicated a drop of 27,700 barrels in daily average crude output. Gasoline stocks failed to show important change, after the fair reduction of the previous week.

Closing price and net change of the 10 most active stocks today follow: Westinghouse Electric, 3 3/4, down 3/8; Am. T. & T. 110 1/2, down 1 1/2; Gen. Elec., 12 1/2, down 1/4; United Corp., 10 1/4, down 1/4; Radio Corp., 5 1/2, down 1/4; Paramount Pub. 7, up 1/4; J. I. Case, 52, down 4; Warner Bros. 3 1/4, up 1/4.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. dividend record was kept in violation today when directors declared the regular quarterly payment of $2.25 a share.

The company, which ranks as America's premier public utility, is one of few of the nation's first rank corporations which have maintained their regular dividend course against the onslaught of adversity since 1929.

Standard Oil of New Jersey, American Can, American Tobacco, R. J. Reynolds, National Biscuit, some of electric power companies and others which take rank in the group, all but one, General Motors, and all but one of the big railroads, Chesapeake & Ohio, have been forced either to reduce or in many cases to omit payment of their regular common dividends.

THREE DEFEATED CANDIDATES IN COUNTY FILE CONTESTS

Peter C. Bopp Challenges Nomination of Emil F. Wohlschlaeger for Judge.

Three election contests by defeated candidates were filed in Circuit Court at Clayton yesterday. Peter C. Bopp, unsuccessful Republican candidate for Judge of the St. Louis County Court, Second District, filed to contest the nomination of Emil F. Wohlschlaeger.

Charles F. Rott is contesting the nomination of Hartwell G. Crain, on the Republican ticket, for State Representative in the Third District. Mrs. Etta May Henley is contesting the nomination of Mrs. Louise M. Dahl as Republican Committeewoman from Bonhomme Township.

Each suit charges irregularities in counting the ballots and fraud in the election.

GRAIN CORPORATION MAY DISPOSE OF ITS COFFEE

President Says Contract Probably Will Be Abrogated if Short-

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—The Grain Stabilization Corporation—owner of 122,000,000 pounds of Brazilian coffee—has not yet decided, President George S. Milnor said yesterday, whether to get rid of its huge stock should a coffee shortage threaten this country.

When the corporation procured the coffee in exchange for 25,000,000 bushels of wheat, it agreed to hold it all until next October, and then to release it on the market at a rate not to exceed $2,500 bags a month. It holds 1,000,000 bags.

Because of the Brazilian revolution, however, an embargo on coffee shipments from the port of Sao Paulo has been declared and American ports have not received their regular supplies for several weeks. Unofficial reports have stated that the stocks on hand in port warehouses constitute less than a month's supply for this country—122,000,000 pounds.

Milnor said it had not yet been clearly demonstrated that a definite shortage of coffee existed in this country but that if such a shortage did occur, he believed the corporation would terminate its contract regarding disposal of its coffee stocks and make them available.

MAN FLEEING FROM BUILDING
IN SAFE ROBBERY CAPTURED

One of three men who fled from a building in Granite City after a safe had been robbed of $58 last night, was captured after an exchange of shots by D. P. Mack, watchman.

The men ran from the building when Mack appeared to investigate noises in the office of an insurance company in the Gonterman Building, 1844 Delmar avenue. Pursuing him first for shots, and one of the three fired three shots in return. Mack was able to catch up with one man, who was not armed.

Later investigation disclosed that a safe in the office of the Western and Southern Life Insurance Co., was broken open and robbed of $58. The safe of another insurance firm in an adjoining suite had been drilled but not robbed.

The prisoner, who first gave his name as Frank Davis of Madison, Ill., later said he was Frank Douglas, and that he lived in St. Louis. He denied having participated in the safe robbery, asserting he had entered the building by mistake.

910 DEAD, MILLIONS HOMELESS

Cholera Also Reported to Be Taking Thousands of Lives; Red Cross Sends Aid.

By the Associated Press.
HARBIN, Manchuria, Aug. 17.—A total of 910 lives were reported lost in floods in various sections of North Manchuria today. Millions were made homeless.

At the same time cholera was said to be taking thousands of victims. The entire population of Harbin was being vaccinated. Bandits stole $300,000 from the Chinese bank at Bodune while it was flooded.

The American Red Cross sent a contribution of $1000 to the United States Consul-General here, but officials said a greater sum would be needed to meet the situation.

ST. LOUIS COMPANY GETS AUDITORIUM STEEL CONTRACT

It Will Put 50 to 75 More Men at Work on $330,000 Job.

A contract to furnish the structural steel for the new Municipal Auditorium was awarded to Stupp Bros. Bridge & Iron Co., a St. Louis firm.

The contract calls for delivery of 400 tons at a cost of about $330,000 for delivery, inspection and erection. The Stupp plant now operating at about one-half capacity, will re-employ from 50 to 75 men for fulfillment of the contract, thus bringing its payroll almost within 10 per cent of normal strength.

Erwin Stupp, president announced his company would buy steel from two local rolling mills.

27 TEXAS CONVICTS AT LARGE

Released From Prison Farm at Height of Hurricane.

By the Associated Press.
HUNTSVILLE, Tex., Aug. 17.—Twenty-seven convicts, freed from Ramsey State prison farm No. 3 during the height of the hurricane Saturday night, were still at large today.

Lee Simmons, prison system manager, said he "hadn't even given them a thought." He explained that seven of the prisoners were hard hit by the storm. "We are devoting our entire time to the rehabilitation of these farms," he said. Thirty-five convicts in a building of camp No. 3 were released, but eight returned. "The building is going to pieces. Run for your lives," Capt. H. W. Miller was quoted as having told the prisoners.

MAN IN LIQUOR AUTO KILLED IN CRASH DURING PURSUIT

Car Upset and Burns When Being Chased by Federal Agents

By the Associated Press.
CHRISTIANBURG, Va., Aug. 17.—The body of a young man, burned in a fire caused by the wreck of his liquor-laden automobile near here, was tentatively identified last night as that of Cecil Snider, 24 years old, Princeton, W. Va.

The car, which was being pursued by Federal officers, failed to make a turn into a side road near Little River bridge between Riner and Floyd early yesterday. It crashed on its side and burst into flames.

Dr. A. M. Shewalter, County Coroner, said the partial identification had been made by several officers and two men who said they were friends of Snider and who came from West Virginia when they heard of the accident. The coroner decided that the man came to his death by burns received in an unavoidable accident.

The alleged driver of a pilot car was arrested and taken to jail here. He refused to talk, except to say that he had no connection with the liquor car and did not know who occupied it or the identity of a man officers said escaped from the pilot car. A companion of the victim of the fire was thrown clear of the wreck and disappeared through a field as officers drove up.

Old Market Street Giving Way to the New

—By Post-Dispatch staff photographer.

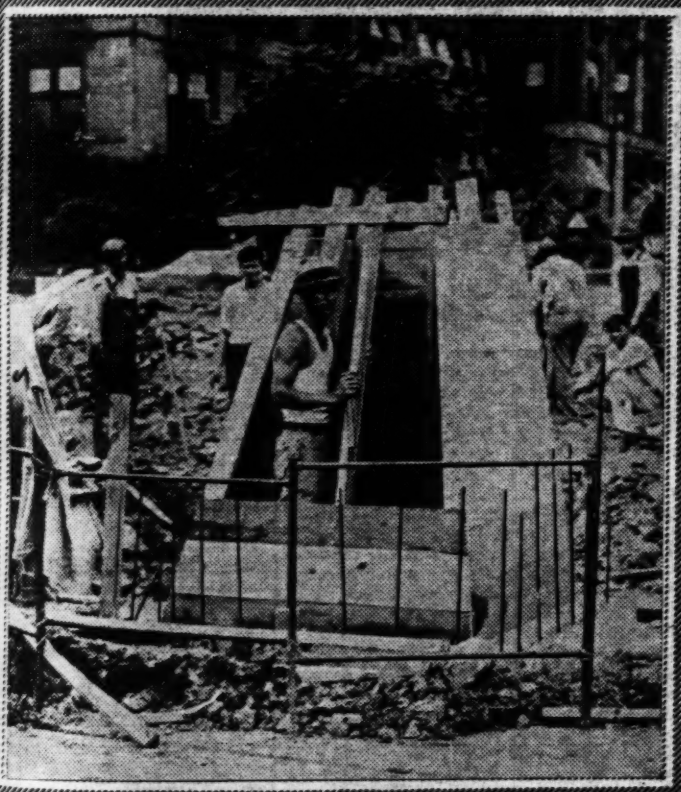

The front yard of the Municipal Courts is a rather messy looking place right now. Some of the ground is being taken for the widening project, and the street level will be about six feet higher, so some of the entrance steps are disappearing, too.

Progress in widening thoroughfare as viewed from Fifteenth street, with Municipal Courts Building on the right and Civil Courts dominating the sky line in the distance.

The street car company is already removing the poles supporting trolley feed wires, since the car tracks have been abandoned.

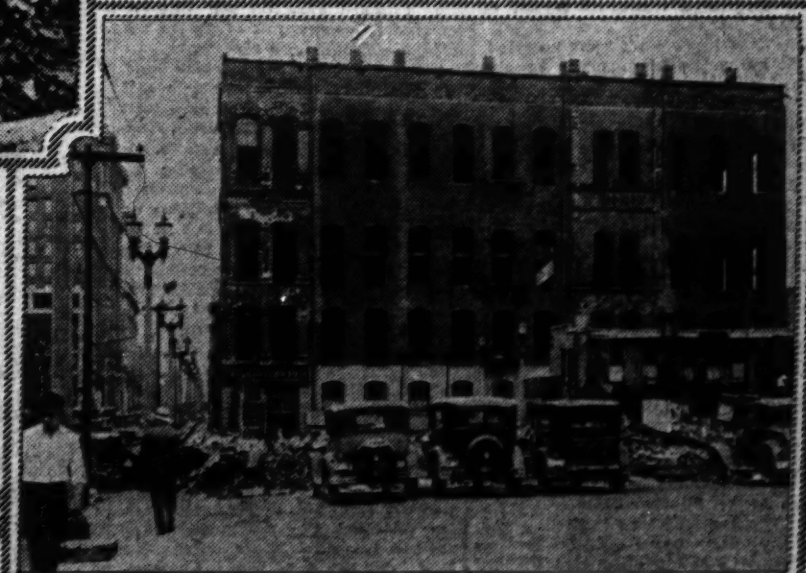

When the street is finished the top of this wooden structure will be the opening of a sewer drain. Market street at this point will be six feet higher than it is now.

Meantime someone is starting to build an underground garage at Fifteenth street.

Famous old Druids' Hall, at Ninth and Market.

Looking west on Market street from Twelfth, with the tower of Union Station in the distance.

In its day this hotel at Tenth and Market did a prosperous business.

EXPLODING the CAVE MAN MYTH

The Experts Now Find That Ancient Man
Was Not a Rough Fellow at All.

A modern museum model showing stone age artists engaged in painting animals on the wall of their cave. In some such scene as this, it is believed, the engraving found by Count de St. Perier was produced.

At the left is a reproduction of the "courtship scene" on Count de St. Perier's find. The woman has a dart in her leg, but the man, the Count believes, "does not appear hostile."

artist meant the man and woman to be understood as standing side by side.

The woman's head is broken off. In damage done in ancient times. Her ornaments may have been made of bone and stone. She wears a necklace and around her ankle is a bangle.

The man has bobbed hair and a receding forehead, continues the French archeologist's description. Like the woman, the man wears a necklace and bangle. Both of the figures have their hands raised in a gesture which might be one of supplication.

But the most important feature of the picture, by far, is the little barbed point sticking in the woman's leg. That dart is the key to the story.

"What is the meaning of this strange scene?" asks the Count de St. Perier in a report to the French journal, "L'Anthropologie."

It is not a fight nor a slaying, he reasons, in spite of appearances. Her scenes in stone age art are known, but not one of them has ever shown a woman in the fray. Moreover, he points out critically, the attitude of the man does not appear hostile.

He concludes: "It seems more reasonable to interpret the dart as a symbol implying the idea of a conquest, no slaying involved."

The Count is thus suggesting that Stone Age lovers employed sympathetic magic. It would mean that the Stone Age lover, like the Stone Age hunter, did not trust to his own strength and brains in an important engagement. He felt safer if he had worked a few charms to insure victory.

having badly to Mr. Pulwitzer. I have reckoned the cost of that and I don't mind so long as I get something out of it. You see, am really absolutely mercenary. Beyond that I think it would be far better for our acquaintance to be purely a business one."

He looked awfully down the room. Was it his own fault? He wondered. Had he lost all his New York attention? Was it the egg self-confidence of this young woman which had paralyzed him? She had almost as though she disliked him.

She had accepted his gift under protest, the evening's entertainment almost with indifference. He had sat at the same table many a time before with young women who would have been considered better looking, had met perfectly willing

WHEN the Stone Age cave man applied the maiden of his choice, he did not hesitate. Striding up to the cave woman, with one light, sure blow of his club he laid her helpless at his feet. Then stooping, he clutched her long hair and dragged her off to his cave, his chosen mate.

So runs the traditional love story of the big, virile cave man and the shrinking, submissive cave woman. It is a popular story. It has made the cave man a hero and a symbol. Many a romantic maiden of the steel age has sighed her preference for cave men.

The only trouble with the story is that it can be traced back to its origin. And the origin wasn't anything that happened 20,000 years ago, when cave men walked the earth and went out wife-hungry.

The cave man lover is a tradition no older than the imagination of grandfather and grandmother, who discussed such things in the Victorian era. The story was one of those gossip stories that grow bigger and better every time they are told, until they crystallize and become folklore.

THE truth is, science realizes today, that the cave man's psychology is lost and forgotten information, almost beyond hope of recall.

That being the case, you can understand the eager interest of a French archeologist, Count Rene de St. Perier, when he was digging recently in the Grotto of Vache, in Southern France, and unearthed a bit of rare archeological treasure. It was a Stone Age artist's picture of a man and woman together. The picture, according to St. Perier's speculation, appears to have something to do with courtship—the courtship of one of these mysterious cave men.

The man in the picture has no club. But in the leg of the woman is lodged a barbed dart. If the Count de St. Perier is right, and this is a love scene, it would seem that darts, not clubs, were the weapons of Cupid in the Old Stone Age.

The curious little picture has brought the cave man and cave woman into the scientific limelight. American anthropologists have disagreed with the French scientist's interpretation. In the clash there emerges a new American theory of the cave man as a fair-minded human being who gave the women folk a squarer deal than women have gained later in many a civilized society.

The controversial picture was discovered by the Count de St. Perier in a cave apartment where many people of the Stone Age long ago took shelter. In the floor of the cave, explorers have unearthed harpoon points of bone and stone, broken stone ornaments and animal bones from many dinners.

WITH such objects as this belongs the important bit of Stone Age art. The unknown artist of the Magdalenian period, some 20,000 years ago, chose for his art medium a long piece of bone. On this, with a sharpened tool, he engraved his pictures. He decorated both of the flat faces of the bone.

On one side, the artist outlined a shaggy bison, wounded by two barbed darts and rushing along in desperate, snorting fury. Such pictures of the hunt were popular art subjects in the Magdalenian period of the Old Stone Age.

Some archeologists consider that the hunting pictures may have been used in sympathetic magic. That is, the hunter would have portrayed in art the scene he hoped to enact. He believed that making a picture of a wounded bison would put the real bison in his power, so that it could not escape his aim.

The bison is so skillfully engraved that it is hard to believe that the same artist would have turned out the crude and awkward picture of a man and woman found on the other side of the bone.

In order to depict the man and woman together, the artist placed the woman above the man. At least, so they appear when the bone is held vertical. The French archeologist suggests that the man and woman were standing side by side.

fingers with his own under the corner of the tablecloth, had felt the gentle pressure of someone's feet, the barely veiled invitation of eyes very well content to be looking in to him. This girl needed money. He had it. She probably liked pleasure alone for a time until she came to her senses. Yet he needed a companion, not a mistress, in this hectic state of mind of his. He was so lonely! If only she would be sensible, spend her evenings with him, play the game of flirtation as he had known it!

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 16.
HARPO, with his hair and his red wig, is off to Moscow to plant the standard of Marx in the art theater there.

He left Hollywood, that is, the all-time intentions of going to Moscow, but no one can tell what a Marx really will do. Studio heads are satisfied with the knowledge that not too many months will pass before Harpo, and the other Marxes, will be back on the movie sets. Harpo Marx, aside from all their incredible foolishness, the musical artists of these movies, rather surprising to learn that Harpo, who struts the angelic instrument like a master, never had a lesson in his life.

BOOTS MALLORY, Louisiana's new contribution to movie pluck, violates the legend that Broadway showgirls place wealthy marriages on a tall pedestal. She married Charles Bennett, a musician, for love—and "what difference does money make, anyway?" she wants to know.

Bennett came to Hollywood with her. Says Boots: "I wouldn't have come unless I had." They've been married three and a half years.

Boots, one of Ziegfeld's beauties, was born in New Orleans, lived in Mobile, Ala. Her acting experience has been negligible, which makes her signing as a movie star a little more surprising.

Boots' real name is Patricia Mallory—yes, beautiful, has a voice delightful to hear, and a personality. She'll take several months of training before attempting to act.

MRS. PAT O'BRIEN (Eloise Taylor) does her screen-acting now under the name Patricia O'Brien. Pat and Patricia, said She's in "Okay, U. S. A." at present.

Tempores et mores note: About 1920 Frank Craven's play "The First Year" was considered for a Pulitzer prize. It lost out, one of the reasons being that the playwright had not treated his subject with proper seriousness. And this year that prize went to that satirical musical, "Oh, Kay!"

Craven, an actor most of his life, subscribes to only one theatrical superstition. He will not read the tag-line on a play until the first public performance.

Simpler Styles
There is a definite trend toward the simpler, more wearable and more conservative type of clothes. Clothes that are unusual in line or color or fabric will still continue to be important, but there will be fewer of them. Simplicity is the coming season.

Wears Blue Suit
Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, new president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, is wearing a suit of blue silk, trimmed with gray fur. With this she wears a small blue straw hat.

go away; he cried, but said he had to let me go. It was his duty. I realized that I couldn't give him up and we had decided to marry.
But he went away and gave me up and now will not come near and I think he owes it to me to come anyway. If you can't help me think what to do, I will go crazy.
If I could get away it might save me, but there is no way. Please try and not think me silly.

YOUR FAITHFUL READER.

In spite of this experience, you may still have the vocation for a religious life and the nuns, where you are known, understand your state of mind, they would help you go away, where you could get into a state of mind to decide. A man of that kind is not worth caring for, or grieving for.

DEAR MARTHA CARR: Which is right—when a man is with two ladies, should he walk between the two or on the outside next to the curb? WONDERING.

On the outside.

MY DEAR MRS. CARR: I have a new position in Dallas, Tex., and shall leave in about two weeks. I should like to know what kind of clothes I will need this year. I have a blue silk suit and a yellow linen. Could I wear either on the train?

Most of my things are crepe. A friend says there are too hot for work. I shall be going all winter in a light-weight coat? Or just a light-weight coat?

MARY JANE.

Crepe is an excellent weight for Dallas, after the last hot days are gone and if it is not too heavy, you can wear it many days in September. All of the things you have described are all right—take them along. But for the early autumn one or two chiffon frocks will be useful. Take both your fur jacket and your light-weight coat, you will need both.

DEAR MRS. CARR: Please do tell me how I can win back the girl I used to go with. I tried to forget her, but can't.

T. R. F.

Spruce up in your appearance go with other girls. Meet her on your way to a show some time and look particularly intrigued with the new flame.

MY DEAR MRS. CARR: Just a little bit of advice will be appreciated. I know a man who is 35 years old. I have been talking to him every time I come from downtown on the bus. He said he thought that he was in love with me. He said that he did not trust anyone else. He is very nice and I would like to ask you if it would be all right for me and him to continue our friendship.

C. T.

It certainly would not be all right for you and this young man to continue your friendship. This sounds like for me not (it is about worn to a thread now). Men sometimes do this to court sympathy and for no good to you.
Better patronize another line which can be taken to mean two kinds).

DEAR MRS. CARR: We are two girls 17 years old and are of another faith. They have asked us to marry them and have a double wedding. Our mothers will not agree to it because of the religion. We love them both dearly.
What shall we do?

HAPPY AND UNHAPPY.

It is wiser to marry someone of your own faith, although these marriages are not necessarily failures by any means. However, I think you are both too young to decide the matter now and you should wait at least a year; all the time giving yourselves the opportunity to see if the wide differences in customs and beliefs are too great to overcome.

MY DEAR MRS. CARR: Could
you find out where my mother is located (without publicity)?
I also have a brother who was with my mother the last I heard of her. I would like to see my mother in my life.

MISS F. G.

I should reach the City Directory and telephone book very carefully. Then I think you might interview the "personal" column of the Post-Dispatch. If you have no success go to the office of the Chief of Police and ask them to look up the names of lost persons. I have no means of tracing people other than this.

DEAR MRS. CARR: I want your advice. I have been married five years and always had trouble with my husband over his mother. Her name she comes in and goes to see her every other week, leaving me alone, to go or to stay alone. He takes her to her mother's home.

BROKEN HEARTED WIFE.

Ask your husband to read over marriage laws with you sometime. He must have forgotten it.

CT TO DISBAR RICHARDS FOR HIS CONDUCT IN BERG CASE

Grievance Committees of St. Louis and Missouri Bar Associations Join in Petition to the State Supreme Court.

OUR COUNTS GIVEN AGAINST ATTORNEY

Is Alleged That He Used Profession for Extortion—Chief Justice Atwood Orders Him to File Answer Within 30 Days.

Suit to disbar Paul A. Richards, attorney tried for participating in the kidnapping of Alexander Berg and acquitted, was filed in the State Supreme Court today by the Grievance Committees of the Missouri and St. Louis Bar Associations.

Chief Justice Atwood issued a citation for Richards to appear before the Supreme Court by Sept. 17 to file his answer. Thereupon, the Court will determine whether it will appoint a commissioner to conduct hearings that will amount, in effect, to a retrial of the kidnapping case as a civil action instead of the criminal charge which Richards was freed by a trial jury. At the conclusion of testimony, the commissioner could report his opinion to the Justices of the Supreme Court, with whom final judgment rests.

Through his activities in the Berg case, the disbarment petition sets forth, Richards, "in his capacity as an attorney at law and as a citizen, has been guilty of such conduct as renders him unfit to continue to practice as an attorney."

Four instances are cited in the petition, wherein, it is concluded that the lawyer "has been guilty of a misdemeanor and malpractice in his professional capacity."

That with the knowledge that his employment was the result of the unlawful acts of the kidnappers, and was not a voluntary and free employment on the part of Berg, he acted as a go-between for the kidnappers and Berg with the expectation of receiving $10,000 from the kidnappers.

His conduct in arranging to share in the ransom while pretending and purporting to act in his professional capacity as a lawyer, and in agreeing with the kidnappers to represent them as their lawyer in the collection of a $50,000 promissory note which they forced Berg to sign to obtain his release.

That Richards, purporting to accept employment as attorney for Berg, was not in good faith arranging for legitimate payment for legal services to be rendered, but was in fact using the situation in which the parties found themselves to enable him to extract and extort from them a large sum of money.

That while the attorney was pretending to act as the associate of Morris Levinson, lawyer for the Bergs legally, he did not disclose to Levinson important facts which would have been of great value in handling the matter and in causing the apprehension and arrest of the kidnappers.

Circumstances Reviewed. Reviewing briefly the circumstances of the kidnapping of Berg, reality furrier, of the Park Plaza Hotel, the petition charges that on Nov. 6, he was "forcibly seized and kidnapped by a group of gangsters and kidnappers, and by force held in secret captivity against his will and for ransom."

That on or about Nov. 9, 1931, the kidnappers forced Berg to write a letter of communication to his personal counsel, Morris Levinson, instructing Levinson to employ Richards as his Berg's attorney, and to pay Richards a fee of $1,000 for services in that behalf. Thereafter Levinson conferred with Richards and paid to him $1,000 as retainer fee for the services to be performed by him as a go-between for Berg and the kidnappers in negotiating and securing the release of Berg.

That while Berg was held in captivity by the kidnappers, they did, by force and intimidation and threats of great bodily harm, compel Berg to sign a promissory note payable to Richards in the sum of $50,000, and thereafter they de-
